KY'S FORCE OUTNUMBERED

American Total Boosted Above South Regulars

... 2,500 MORE GIs ARE LANDED

Saigon (AP)—With a landing of 2,500 GIs in South Viet Nam Friday, American soldiers now outnumber their Vietnamese ally's regular forces.

The United States, which once limited its military activity here to advice and support for the Saigon war effort, now has 317,500 uniformed men directly involved. The buildup continues as Hanoi spurs all efforts to promote negotiations.

Though Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government lists 705,000 Vietnamese under arms, the bulk are militia-men, national police and irregulars. The American regulars top by 500 the 317,000 Vietnamese regulars in the fight against the communists.

DMZ Raided
Dominating action of the day was U.S. air raids against communist targets in and near the old demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

U.S. bombers hammered at missile sites in North Viet Nam while American forces in the south reported killing 86 communist troops in widely scattered engagements.

In the largest action, 200 to 300 Viet Cong were spotted near a village 13 miles northwest of Quang Ngai City near the central coast. They were attacked by two U.S. Air Force planes and ground troops reported afterwards that 53 Viet Cong were killed.

B52s and lighter bombers struck in support of about 5,000 U.S. Marines in Operation Prairie, a two-month old drive near the Demilitarized Zone that separates North and South Viet Nam.

In air raids over North Viet Nam, U.S. planes attacked a surface-to-air missile (SAM) site 25 miles northwest of Dong Hoi and pilots reported a secondary explosion. Navy planes firing bullpup missiles reported hitting a SAM site containing four missiles about 30 miles northwest of coastal Vinh. Pilots claimed three missiles destroyed.

Informed sources said North Vietnamese are still pouring south directly across the onetime buffer territory, delineated in the Geneva Accords of 1954, and the biggest conflict of the war may shape up when a shift in monsoon winds starts seasonal rains in that area next month.

'Without Limits'
Among related developments of war and politics:—The Vatican disclosed Archbishop Sergio Pignedoli, chief of a mission that landed here Tuesday, carried a 1,500-word letter from Pope Paul VI to Viet Nam's Roman Catholic bishops promising to cooperate "without limits" to help restore peace.

—Premier Ky indicated there were differences of opinion between Saigon and Washington on phases of the peace proposals made by Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg before the United Nations last week.

—Informed sources said the Saigon government, pleased at the turnout for the election of a national constituent assembly Sept. 11, may decree another round of voting for selection of thousands of village and hamlet chiefs before the end of the year.

Nebraska Aid Added To Bill

Washington (UPI)—Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Nebr., reported Friday the Senate reclamation appropriations subcommittee on which he serves approved an additional $675,000 for Nebraska projects.

The House-passed $1.1 billion public works appropriations bill earmarked $45,500 for Missouri River Basin investigations in the state.

At Hruska's request, the Senate subcommittee added $175,000 planning funds for the proposed Mid-State Reclamation District and $500,000 for transmission lines from Fort Thompson, S.D., to Grand Island.

Monday Hruska will ask the flood control and navigation subcommittee to add another $1.2 million to the $7.1 million approved by the House to deepen the navigation channel in the Missouri. The additional funds would provide the Army Engineers with the full amount they have said could be used in the current fiscal year for the project, Hruska said.

He also will ask for $120,000 in construction funds for the Nemaha-Little Nemaha River flood control project. The House bill provides only $20,000 for general investigations.

All the requested additional money will be subject to the decision of the full Appropriations Committee at a meeting later Monday. Hruska said he expected no problems in winning approval of the reclamation projects, or of the money for the Missouri River channel, a project which the Senate in past years has agreed should be funded to the full capability of the engineers.

But he was less confident of the outlook for the Nemaha-Little Nemaha project.

Steen Demands More Lewis & Clark Money

By JOHN ARMSTRONG
Associated Press Writer
State Game Commission Director Mel Steen said Friday the federal government should pay a major share of the costs of developing the Lewis and Clark Trail in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

He said the federal government has "short-changed" the four states by limiting its past assistance in developing the Missouri River between St. Louis, Mo., and Yankton, S.D., for recreational purposes.

He said federal agencies "have poured hundreds of millions of dollars" into developing the Missouri, Snake and Columbia Rivers in the Dakotas, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

Pay More Here
At the same time, "relatively very little has been done by federal agencies along the lower reaches of the Missouri River, and Nebraska, ka, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri are now being asked to pay most of the costs of developing the Lewis and Clark Trail in those states," Steen said.

I want Uncle Sam to undertake his fair share in developing that stretch of the river from St. Louis to Yankton," said Steen. "The federal government should treat all states alike."

He said the matter will be discussed at a four-day meeting of the Lewis and Clark Trail Commission opening Saturday in Leavenworth, Kan. Steen is Nebraska's representative on the commission.

The commission was formed to coordinate recreational, historical and scenic development of the route taken by the Lewis and Clark expedition into the Northwest in the early 1800s.

North, West
Steen said federal agencies have constructed "a series of great lakes, parks, recreation areas, campgrounds and roads" along the trail north and west of Yankton.

The federal government has not only extensively developed the three major rivers along which Lewis and Clark traveled above Yankton but also is undertaking major projects along the overland segment of the route in Montana and Idaho, he said.

The game commission director also noted that Congress recently passed a resolution authorizing a study of Missouri River recreational developments in the Dakotas and Montana.

The major federal activity along the southern stretch of the river has been channelization to make the river navigable, which has been a detriment to fish and wildlife, Steen said.

He said that if Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri are forced to pay most of the costs of developing the Lewis and Clark Trail within their boundaries, progress will be slow and limited.

Police See Future Tranquilizer Gun

New York (AP)—Why not a gun-fired tranquilizer for use on rioters or fleeing criminals instead of bullets?

A fine idea, police spokesmen in major U.S. cities said Friday.

But, they agreed, until a tranquilizer which works instantly is developed—with a no-kill guarantee—police will have to continue using present-day weapons.

The suggestion that wrongdoers could be brought down by tranquilizers came from Charles A. O'Brien, chief deputy attorney general of California.

Fatal Shooting
O'Brien noted that three days of rioting in San Francisco this week followed the fatal shooting of a Negro car thief suspect, and said capture by tranquilizer could have prevented the costly disturbance.

"It's a nice idea, but it's a long way off," was the view of Sgt. Edward J. Higgins, firearms specialist for the Massachusetts State Police.

Higgins agreed that tranquilizer darts fired from guns had proved effective in dealing with animals, but said their use on thinner-skinned humans might prove lethal. He pointed out the risk that a tranquilizing hypodermic shot into a man would cause an air embolism, the often-fatal obstruction of an artery by a bubble of air.

A spokesman said New York City police had experimented with tranquilizer missiles along lines suggested by O'Brien but had concluded that they would not work quickly enough in a real emergency.

"The tranquilizer shots take several minutes to become effective," the spokesman said. "During that period, the person being tranquilized could do a lot of harm with a knife or gun."

Fatal Reaction
A Los Angeles police official said the idea "has been kicked around unofficially here" but commented:

"The problem is that nobody knows the right dosage, or how to prevent a possibly fatal reaction. You read all the time of zoo people killing animals with an accidental overdose or adverse reaction. How would you dare try it on humans?"

"And what do you do if the suspect has a gun and shoots back with real bullets when you fire a tranquilizer?"

Police Chief L. H. Caylor of Dayton, Ohio, scene of a recent racial disturbance, doubted that tranquilizer missiles would be effective against rioters.

"The main problem in a big outbreak is clearing the streets, and you couldn't do that with tranquilizers," Clayton said. "A shotgun with a bayonet on it is probably the most effective crowd-clearer because of the psychological effect."

Arms Yet Unseen
Prague (AP)—Weapons "so far not displayed in military parades" will be used in Warsaw Pact maneuvers in Czechoslovakia next month, the official News Agency CTK reported.

The Soviet Union, East Germany, Hungary and Czechoslovakia will take part in the exercise which will "exceed all past strategic movements" of communist armed forces, the agency said.

Meet Asked With Morrison, Curtis On 'Deal' Charge

Omaha (AP)—President Richard W. Nisley of the Nebraska AFL-CIO asked Friday for a meeting with Gov. Frank B. Morrison and Sen. Carl Curtis to discuss charges that organized labor has made a deal with the governor for its support.

In telegrams to the two candidates for the Nebraska Senate seat, Nisley said that the working man resents the accusation which he said was made by Curtis' campaign workers.

He suggested a meeting at 10 a.m. Monday in his office. "Every working man and woman as well as the general public have the right to know all of the facts with reference to this situation."

Inez Aims New Blow At Cuba

Miami (UPI)—Hurricane Inez, a killer of hundreds, sliced into populous eastern Cuba Friday, bounced back into the Caribbean Sea and coiled again for another blow at the communist island.

Inez, the most vicious storm of the season, killed at least one person and injured 38 others when it swept into coffee-rich Oriente province in southeastern Cuba Friday.

Oriente's tall and rugged Sierras, where Premier Fidel Castro launched his revolution, apparently disorganized and repulsed Inez, however, and it emerged late Friday south of Cuba in the Caribbean.

Castro Directing
Castro, personally directing rescue operations in eastern Cuba, said Inez' toll on the island was not immediately known.

The toll is certain to grow when communications are restored in eastern Cuba and the mountain backlands of Haiti, where Inez struck early Thursday.

More than 124,000 people were evacuated from Oriente province.

In the Bahamas, American tourists jammed airports seeking flights back to the mainland.

110 Known Dead
A spokesman for the Dominican Republic government said 110 were known dead in that country. An air force spokesman said several small interior cities had been "totally destroyed." Officials said the country had suffered "a real tragedy." First estimate of property damage was $1 million.

In Haiti, where some 5,000 died in Hurricane Flora three years ago, UPI correspondent Gerson Alexis reported "enormous casualties."

On the French island of Guadeloupe, where Inez struck Tuesday, 40 were known dead and 50 people were missing.

Hundreds were injured and thousands homeless in the path of the storm.

Base Damaged
Cuban radio reports monitored in Miami Friday said the city of Guantanamo, where the big U.S. Guantanamo Bay Naval Base is located, suffered "major" damage. The city reported 138 m.p.h. winds.

Havana Radio said the city of Neuvas on the northern coast of Camaguey province was being raked by strong winds as the storm moved into the Atlantic and that all residents had been evacuated from low-lying areas.

In Santiago, Cuba's second largest city, electric power and telephone service were knocked out. The radio said over 8,000 persons had been evacuated from the city.

Pressmen Halt
Washington (AP)—Pressmen of the Washington Post halted work shortly early Saturday when negotiators failed to reach agreement with four Washington daily newspapers. But the negotiators were reported still talking.

Treasure Still Lurking In 'Big Muddy' Below Blair

By JIM STEVENSON
Star Staff Writer

To the surprise of many Nebraskans, one of the richest sunken treasures in North America is a few miles south of Blair, somewhere below the surface of the Missouri River.

And it's been there, waiting to be discovered, for over a hundred years.

The steamer Bertrand, carrying a cargo valued at $100,000 in quicksilver (mercury) and whisky, sank in the spring of 1865 after taking a snag. Neither the ship nor its precious cargo were ever recovered.

Doubt About Whisky
Experts agree that the mercury, packed in earthenware jars, should have been able to resist a century's immersion in the Missouri. But it's doubtful that the whisky would be untouched.

Though that section of the Missouri may be slightly higher in alcohol content than the rest of the river, the quicksilver part of the cargo is definitely the real windfall for treasure seekers. And the cargo's value, even without the whisky, may have increased, according to Donald Danker of the Nebraska State Historical Society. Today's price of mercury is far above what it was in 1865.

The steamer was on its way to the mining areas of Montana and South Dakota. Mercury was used to separate the gold from the ore in the mines and was, consequently, at a premium.

And the whisky . . . well, the whisky was also at a premium in the mining areas.

Old De Soto Landing
The Bertrand went down in the area of the old De Soto landing, approximately 20 miles up the river from Omaha and four miles south of Blair. She sank fast, going completely under within 10 minutes.

The cries, "a boat is sinking," reportedly were ignored by the DeSoto villagers who thought it was an April Fool's joke.

As a result, the crew and passengers were apparently too busy getting off the sinking craft themselves to mark the exact spot of the sunken ship. There are no records of early salvage attempts, except that they were unsuccessful. Ambitious locals were discouraged from salvage effort by the statute of limitations. 'Finders Keepers'

But by 1890, after the statute of limitations had expired for the vessel, and it was "finders keepers," salvage attempts became commonplace. In fact, local residents, with divining rods and long-handled drills, took up the search as a popular pastime. After the turn of the century, however, the Bertrand became sort of a myth in the area, a treasure few believed would ever be found. There are recorded instances of individuals using metal detectors and other devices to search for the craft, but the Bertrand stayed hidden.

Move On
Danker remembers several salvage companies in the past few years that looked for the ship without results. The companies, one after another, packed up, admitted defeat; and moved on to greener pastures.

Danker pointed out that the river began moving east after the vessel sank, and it's possible that the Bertrand and its valuable cargo are buried along the west bank rather than actually submerged in the river.

At any rate, wherever the 160-long vessel is buried, be it river bottom or river bank, it's been there for 101 years and seems destined to remain there forever.

New $275,000 Library Opens At Scottsbluff

... Equipped for 80,000 Books

Lincoln Star Special
Scottsbluff—Scottsbluff took on an added intellectual look this week with the opening on a regular full-time basis of the city's new $275,000 public library.

The new structure is one of 20 regional libraries built or to be constructed under the Plan of Regional Library Centers drafted by Nebraska librarians and adopted by the Nebraska Library Association in October of 1962.

It is designed to serve as the Northwest Nebraska Regional Library serving Sioux, Dawes, Sheridan, Box Butte, Garden, Morrill and Scotts Bluff Counties.

The city's new intellectual look stems from the spacious new structure built in Central Park and covering a square block area. Half of the Central Park area still remains as a park.

It was financed by a bond issue of $135,000 and through construction grants made available through the Nebraska Public Library Commission and the Library Services and Construction Act of 1964.

Construction costs include new equipment to house a book collection of 80,000 books or nearly three times greater than the collection which had been available in the Old Scottsbluff City Library built in 1922.

All On One Floor
"We are now one library all housed on one floor," John Kopschke, city librarian, smilingly said as he viewed the structure. "In the old library, we had to operate on a two-level basis with the main library upstairs and the children's library and work rooms in the basement."

The new structure includes the children's library, offices, work rooms, a meeting room, lounge area and space for shelves to accommodate the anticipated 80,000 books. The north side of the building includes a ramp to accommodate two bookmobiles, one of which is being purchased now and will serve country schools in the area.

As a Regional Library it already has a contract with Sioux County and is serving rural areas of Scotts Bluff County.

Contributing to the city's intellectual look will be the library's attraction to all residents of the region who will be drawn to the Northwest Nebraska Regional Library.

Kopschke has been Scottsbluff city librarian since 1963. He came here from Kakeheath, England, where he had served as librarian as a civilian employee of the United States Air Force. He is retiring president of the Nebraska Library Association.

The library was built under the direction of the Scottsbluff Library Board. Members are Vernon A. Allen, Mrs. John H. Chain, Ernest W. Gustafson, Mrs. Lawrence Lemons and the Rev. Max Valdez.

A formal dedication of the new library is planned for early in November, Kopschke reported.

$60 Million In Health Grants Could Be Lost

By STUART LONG
Star Staff Writer
Nebraska will lose $60 million in federal grants if the Senate does not pass the health planning amendment of 1966, the Nebraska Public Health Association said at its 16th annual meeting in Omaha.

Present "Inadequate" health programs will expire June 30, 1967, the NPHA added.

The amendment was described as including "laudatory planning provisions and funds... plus expanded formula and project grants."

Wants Member
If the amendment is passed, the association recommended that the State Health Department be designated to administer and supervise the program and that an NPHA representative be included in a proposed state health planning council.

The NPHA urged the establishment of regional health boards with taxing power to correspond in area with the 19 educational service units.

The NPHA also expressed support for a Senate bill initiated by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., which would prohibit federal grants for construction and operation of nursing homes and homes for the aged within states not requiring the licensing of such homes. The association suggested that Nebraska pass a licensing law.

Increased Income
The association said that it

12% Supermarkets
Chicago (AP)—Supermarkets make up only 12% of all retail stores, but they ring up three-fourths of all grocery sales. In 1948 they constituted two per cent of stores and 26% of sales.

Howe Defends Use Of Power

... REP. RIVERS: HE TALKS LIKE COMMUNIST

Washington (UPI)—Education Commissioner Harold Howe II, under sharp attack by Southern congressmen, denied Friday he had overstepped his authority in pushing the desegregation of schools.

But Howe, in an appearance before the House Rules Committee, conceded that his office was studying a massive busing plan to help solve racial imbalance in schools. He denied the busing would be compulsory, but committee members noted that schools accepting it would get more money.

Even as Howe was testifying before the Rules Committee, Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., delivered a blistering attack on him from the House floor.

Like Communist

"This man talks like a communist," Rivers said. "That's why some of us who know call him the commissar of education."

In the 10 minutes he spoke, Rivers called Howe a "misfit," "an idiot," "ignorant," and said President Johnson should fire him.

Defending Howe, Rep. William Pitts Ryan, D-N.Y., told the House he was shocked that a fellow congressman would label as a communist a public official who was trying to carry out the mandate of Congress.

"I had thought that the days of McCarthy and McCarthyism were gone," Ryan said. "It makes me shudder."

The Rules Committee hearing was the first formal congressional attack on Howe's guidelines and possible future policies. It had been announced as an inquiry to determine whether to recommend a House investigation.

Continued Segregation

Government guidelines were revised as a result of "freedom of choice" plans adopted by most Southern states. Under this plan, pupils could attend any school they desired in the district. But the government said this resulted in continued segregation.

After two hours, the committee recessed its hearing until Tuesday. Shortly before it quit, Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., displayed a "1967 draft bill" that he said would set up a gigantic exchange of students between Negro ghettos and white suburbs.

Howe contended the draft was one of many proposals under discussion that might "never see the light of day" although it had gone to Secretary John W. Gardner of the Health Education and Welfare Department.

Anderson agreed that compulsory busing was not included in the proposal but he said it called for 20% "bonuses" to schools that complied.

Hold Out Carrot

"You just hold out the carrot of a grant," Anderson said noting the provision would leave financially pressed schools little choice.

Howe said that as of Monday, 37 school districts had lost all federal funds for failing to submit to acceptable desegregation plans. He said 73 others had been cited for hearings that might lead to their losing federal money.

He said his office had "deferred" awards of funds under any new programs in 70 districts that "have had the greatest problems with making their free choice plans operate effectively."

Several congressmen, not all of them from the South, have charged Howe's office does not have the authority to authorize such "deferrals."

"This deferral of funds follows a procedure established by the attorney general," Howe said.

Negro-White Force Seeks Racial Peace

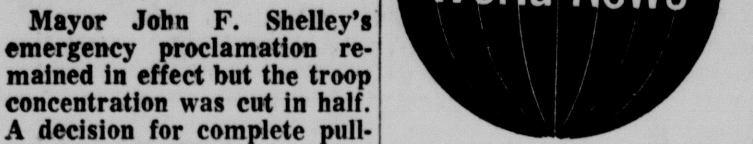

San Francisco (UPI)—Negroes and whites from all walks of life Friday joined in seeking peace for riot-ravaged San Francisco. National Guardsmen began leaving the city in hopes the violence was ended.

Mayor John F. Shelley's emergency proclamation remained in effect but the troop concentration was cut in half. A decision for complete pull-out was scheduled early Saturday.

The weary mayor made a dramatic appeal late Thursday night for all citizens to end racial discrimination. His call came as Negroes themselves — young and old — launched new anti-riot tactics with a task force of 135 members.

Newspapers and television and radio stations gave the mayor, a former union official and congressman, top priority for his message. The anti-riot Negro groups equipped themselves with bullhorns and walkie talkies to spread "the word" in tense neighborhoods that "rioting isn't the way."

Calling discrimination "a cancer" for which both unions and employers were responsible, Shelley declared. "We are not going to cure the illness that besets us through the use of armed force."

Responses to the mayor's appeal came from the city's Civil Service Commission which started a program to recruit workers for 774 vacant city hall positions. The Chamber of Commerce called presidents of the city's 100 largest companies to a meeting to provide more jobs.

Minor flareups occurred Thursday night but none was comparable to the bricks, bottle bombs and shootings that followed the police killing Tuesday of a teenage Negro auto theft suspect. More than 120 persons were arrested, mostly for curfew violations, to bring the total to 349 since the violence began in the Hunters Point and Fillmore districts.

'Will Not Tolerate'

On the San Francisco Peninsula, meantime, Sheriff Earl Whitmore urged parents in East Menlo Park and Palo Alto to keep track of their teenage children at night. Both areas had flareups during the summer and Whitmore warned, "We will not tolerate any violence."

Understanding grief came from the parents of 16-year-old Matthew Johnson whose death triggered the emotions of rioters.

The boy's stepmother spoke sharply: "If the boy had been white the cop wouldn't have done it."

"That isn't true," retorted the father. "I got friends in the Hunters Point area on the police force. But if I look and see it's just a kid, white or black makes no difference. I'm not just a-going to shoot."

Officer Alvin Johnson, 51, a 23-year veteran of the force, was suspended by Shelley shortly after the shooting.

Katzenbach Nomination Is Praised

Washington (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, praised by Democrats and Republicans alike, won easy Senate confirmation Friday as undersecretary of state. Approval came on a voice vote, without opposition.

Katzenbach will replace George W. Ball, who has resigned effective Saturday as the No. 2 man in the State Department. It was presumed that Katzenbach will move into his new post the first of next week.

Both the Democratic and Republican leaders of the Senate heaped praise on Katzenbach.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said the appointment was "not only excellent" but would be "good for the nation in the months ahead."

He said Katzenbach was a "man of reason, integrity and determination."

Echoing Mansfield's praise, GOP leader, Everett M. Dirksen called Katzenbach a "man of extraordinary integrity."

No dissent was voiced against Katzenbach's appointment, but Dirksen said that if Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., had been present, he would have voted against the nomination.

Judges Study Jury Shield From Prejudicial Publicity

Washington (AP)—A committee of 12 federal judges is studying ways to shield federal juries from prejudicial publicity, Chief Justice Earl Warren announced Friday night.

And the same committee, headed by Judge Irving R. Kaufman of the U.S. Circuit Court in New York, is studying the possible use of data processing in court administration, Warren said.

The chief justice announced establishment of the committee and the two studies already under way in his role as chairman of the Judicial Conference of the United States. The conference is comprised of the chief judge of each U.S. Circuit Court, one district judge from each circuit and the chief judges of the special federal courts.

The first study stems from the Supreme Court decision last June throwing out the conviction of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard on charges of slaying his first wife. The court held "virulent publicity" had denied the Cleveland osteopath a fair trial in state court.

'Rawhide' Star Drowns In Peru During Filming

Lima, Peru (AP)—Television actor Eric Fleming drowned in a remote river in Peru's back country while filming a jungle picture, the U.S. Embassy announced Friday.

Fleming, 41, was on location in the Tingo Maria area, 340 miles northeast of Lima, an embassy spokesman said.

Fleming, star of the television series "Rawhide," was lost when his canoe capsized in the swift flowing Huallaga River Wednesday.

Search parties are continuing efforts to recover the body.

U.S. Judge Backs School: Long Hair Is Wrong Hair

Dallas, Tex. (AP)—The lawyer for three teen-ager rock 'n' roll singers who lost a federal case over their haircuts said Friday night that his clients will go to private school rather than submit to a barber.

A U.S. District Judge ruled Friday that high school principals have the authority to suspend boys whose hair is too long.

"They want to appeal their case," said attorney Herbert Hooks. "Come next week, we'll have to find a tutor or a private school, or some broad-minded public school."

Rights Violated

Stephen Webb, 18, and Phillip Farrell and Paul Jarvis, both 17, claimed that their civil rights were violated when W. S. Lanham, principal of Samuel High School, refused to let them register for classes Sept. 7 unless they got haircuts.

Two weeks ago, U.S. Dist. Judge W. M. Taylor issued a temporary restraining order telling Lanham to let the boys attend school until their suit against the administration was settled.

The three youths were in class Friday when Judge Taylor issued his final ruling.

Haircuts Predicted

Earlier Friday, the manager of the Suburban Club where the trio is working announced that the three would be shorn of their Beatle-style locks during their performance Friday night.

Hooks said that the idea was vetoed, adding, "I'd shave their heads if they allowed it."

The three attempted to register at other Dallas schools and were turned down.

The case was filed in federal court because the youths claimed their civil rights were being violated.

Lawyers for the Dallas school system had argued the federal courts lacked jurisdiction.

William S. Lanham, Samuel High School principal, said wearing of long hair causes derisive remarks to be made about the boys, one of which is, "The girl's rest room is right down the hall."

The youths contended that their contract with their agent prohibits them from having their hair shorn.

Two Nazi War Criminals Freed

Berlin (UPI) — The gates of the four-power Spandau Prison swung open Friday night and two leading Nazi war criminals walked out as free men after 20 years.

Their release left a disappointed Rudolf Hess, Adolf Hitler's deputy fuhrer, the only prisoner, inside the grim fortress prison in Berlin.

Freed were Baldur von Schirach, the 59-year-old former leader of the "Hitler Youth," and Albert Speer, 61, who masterminded the Third Reich's war industry. Their 20-year-terms for war crimes imposed by the international tribunal at Nuernberg expired at midnight Friday, 5 p.m. (CST).

Expected Release

Hess is serving a life term. His lawyer, Dr. Alfred Seidel, said the 72-year-old Hess had expected to be released with the other two Nazis.

Western officials said Hess had no ground for such a belief. His optimism was said to be a sign of his bad mental shape and poor grasp of reality.

It was considered unlikely that Hess ever will be given clemency even though he is not in the best physical and mental condition.

Only death is expected to end the imprisonment that began with his mysterious solo wartime flight to Scotland May 10, 1941 in an effort to get Britain to sue for peace.

The warden gave the Nazis the clothes they wore when arrested in 1945. They had been cleaned for their release.

Russia Boots 2 Americans For Alleged CIA Activities

Moscow (AP) — Two more Americans, one a diplomat, were accused by Russia Friday of working for the Central Intelligence Agency and engaging in "hostile activities." The charges were promptly denied by U.S. officials.

The Soviet labor newspaper Trud said Nicholas H. Riegg, 26, of Concord, Calif., graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, one of the accused, had been expelled this month. Riegg told the U.S. embassy in Bucharest, Romania, that he was "entrapped," given rough treatment, then expelled.

In Washington, the State Department denied Riegg worked for the CIA.

The second American, Donald R. Lesh, 34, of Sun City, Ariz., a U.S. embassy secretary, was expelled Sept. 14, but no specific charges were made against him until Friday. The U.S. embassy here denied the charges against Lesh, who was accused of being a contact man for Riegg and subverting African students in Moscow. The embassy termed the charges against Lesh "completely unfounded."

Dawson Case

The disclosures focused new attention on the case of Thomas R. Dawson, 24, of Annapolis, Md., a Peace Corps volunteer being held by Soviet authorities for possible trial. He was arrested Sept. 11 when he wandered across the Russian border from Iran. There has been speculation that the Soviet Union might put Dawson on trial, but a U.S. embassy spokesman said Friday there had been no Soviet statement to this effect.

In Washington, the State Department said renewed efforts had been made both in Washington and in Moscow to obtain release of Dawson.

Experiment Hurts LSD Use Claim

New Brunswick, N.J. (UPI) —The most devastating of scientific experimental devices devastated the chief scientific justification for a free use by qualified persons of the hallucination drug lysergic acid diethylamide (LSD).

The device is the "controlled" experiment. The justification is the claim LSD somehow helps alcoholics to shake their fate. The device was put to the justification by four scientists of the Alcoholism and Drug Addiction Research Center of Toronto.

They used 30 alcoholics, 28 men and 2 women. Ten were given a heavy dose of LSD and 10 got the common nervous system stimulant, ephedrine. The other 10 were given no drug. All 30 were then put through the center's standardized mind treatment for alcoholism.

Neither alcoholics nor their doctors knew which ones had received which drug. The alcoholics didn't know LSD was involved and the doctors couldn't identify the 10 who had no drug. Such "blindness" is the essence of the "controlled" experiment.

It eliminates the basis of expectation. No one has reason to expect anything. An additional "control" was the provision for an eventual comparison of results—LSD with ephedrine and LSD with no drug at all.

Six months afterward all 30 alcoholics were put through a rigorous testing of how they were faring in their perennial battle with the bottle. All were faring better, but the 10 who had had LSD were faring no better than those who had had ephedrine or who had no drug.

According to the embassy here, Riegg turned up at the U.S. embassy in Bucharest on Sept. 12 and reported what had happened to him, saying that four days earlier he was "entrapped" by Soviet plainclothesmen in Kharkov, in the Ukraine about 400 miles south of Moscow, and charged with the economic crime of trying to sell some of his clothes.

And the same committee, headed by Judge Irving R. Kaufman of the U.S. Circuit Court in New York, is studying the possible use of data processing in court administration, Warren said.

The chief justice announced establishment of the committee and the two studies already under way in his role as chairman of the Judicial Conference of the United States. The conference is comprised of the chief judge of each U.S. Circuit Court, one district judge from each circuit and the chief judges of the special federal courts.

The first study stems from the Supreme Court decision last June throwing out the conviction of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard on charges of slaying his first wife. The court held "virulent publicity" had denied the Cleveland osteopath a fair trial in state court.

Possible "guidelines" or "other corrective action" to protect juries from prejudicial publicity will be examined by the committee, Warren said. He added that the judges may inquire "as to the extent to which the problems discussed" in the Sheppard decision "are present in the federal court system."

In addition to Judge Kaufman, the committee is composed of a circuit or district judge from each federal judicial circuit. They are:

Circuit Judge Robert A. Ainsworth Jr. of New Orleans; Circuit Judge Spencer Bell of Charlotte, N.C.; Chief District Judge William H. Becker of Kansas City; District Judge Howard C. Bratton of Albuquerque, N.M.; District Judge Bernard M. Decker of Chicago;

District Judge Edward T. Gignoux of Portland, Maine; District Judge A. Leon Higginbotham Jr. of Philadelphia; District Judge Alexander Holtzoff of Washington; Chief District Judge William J. Jameson of Billings, Mont.; District Judge Sylvester J. Ryan of New York City; and District Judge Frank W. Wilson of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Two Nazi War Criminals Freed

Berlin (UPI)—The gates of the four-power Spandau Prison swung open Friday night and two leading Nazi war criminals walked out as free men after 20 years.

the only prisoner, inside the grim fortress prison in Berlin.

Freed were Baldur von Schirach, the 59-year-old former leader of the "Hitler Youth," and Albert Speer, 61, who masterminded the Third Reich's war industry. Their 20-year-terms for war crimes imposed by the International Tribunal at Nuremberg expired at midnight Friday, 5 p.m. (CST).

Expected Release

Hess is serving a life term. His lawyer, Dr. Alfred Seidel, said the 72-year-old Hess had expected to be released with the other two Nazis.

Western officials said Hess had no ground for such a belief. His optimism was said to be a sign of his bad mental shape and poor grasp of reality.

It was considered unlikely that Hess ever will be given clemency even though he is not in the best physical and mental condition.

Only death is expected to end the imprisonment that began with his mysterious solo wartime flight to Scotland May 10, 1941 in an effort to get Britain to sue for peace.

The warden gave the Nazis the clothes they wore when arrested in 1945. They had been cleaned for their release.

Relatives of the Nazis were not allowed to bring them new clothes.

What Is a Seventh-day Adventist?

He observes the Golden Rule . . .

"Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them," (Matthew 7:12) is more than a motto to the Adventist. It is a way of life. He believes the doing of good applies to friends and enemies alike, for He is "kind unto the unthankful and to the evil." (Luke 6:35.)

He believes in the brotherhood of man . . .

To the Seventh-day Adventist every man is a brother; a being created by the power of God. To help his fellowman toward a happier life, here and in the hereafter, is the Adventist's goal. Concern for the eternal welfare of his fellowman is a motivating force of the Adventist Church and its membership.

He knows no barriers of race or creed . . .

Through health, educational, and ministerial programs he has helped his church reach out to millions of all races around the world. He supports a program that now involves 928 of the world's language groups. His church relationship with men of all nations is as close as brothers and sisters within a family. All men are welcome to worship and fellowship within his church.

New $275,000 Library Opens At Scottsbluff

... Equipped for 80,000 Books

Lincoln Star Special
 Scottsbluff—Scottsbluff took on an added intellectual look this week with the opening on a regular full-time basis of the city's new $275,000 public library.

The new structure is one of 20 regional libraries built or to be constructed under the Plan of Regional Library Centers drafted by Nebraska librarians and adopted by the Nebraska Library Association in October of 1962.

It is designed to serve as the Northwest Nebraska Regional Library serving Sioux, Dawes, Sheridan, Box Butte, Garden, Morrill and Scotts Bluff counties.

The city's new intellectual look stems from the spacious new structure built in Central Park and covering a square block area. Half of the Central Park area still remains as a park.

It was financed by a bond issue of $135,000 and through construction grants made available through the Nebraska Public Library Commission and the Library Services and Construction Act of 1964.

Construction costs include new equipment to house a book collection of 80,000 books or nearly three times greater than the collection which had been available in the Old Scottsbluff City Library built in 1922.

All On One Floor
 "We are now one library all housed on one floor," John Kopischke, city librarian, smilingly said as he viewed the structure. "In the old library, we had to operate on a two-level basis with the main library upstairs and the children's library and work rooms in the basement."

The new structure includes the children's library, offices, work rooms, a meeting room, lounge area and space for shelving to accommodate the anticipated 80,000 books. The north side of the building includes a ramp to accommodate two bookmobiles, one of which is being purchased now and will serve country schools in the area.

As a Regional Library it already has a contract with Sioux County and is serving rural areas of Scotts Bluff County.

Contributing to the city's intellectual look will be the library's attraction to all residents of the region who will be drawn to the Northwest Nebraska Regional Library.

Kopischke has been Scottsbluff city librarian since 1963. He came here from Kakeh, England, where he had served as librarian as a civilian employee of the United States Air Force. He is retiring president of the Nebraska Library Association.

The library was built under the direction of the Scottsbluff Library Board. Members are Vernon A. Allen, Mrs. John H. Chain, Ernest W. Gustafson, Mrs. Lawrence Lemons and the Rev. Max Valdez.

A formal dedication of the new library is planned for early in November, Kopischke reported.

By STUART LONG
Star Staff Writer
 Nebraska will lose $60 million in federal grants if the Senate does not pass the health planning amendment of 1966, the Nebraska Public Health Association said at its 16th annual meeting in Omaha.

Present "inadequate" health programs will expire June 30, 1967, the NPHA added.

The amendment was described as including "laudatory planning provisions and funds... plus expanded formula and project grants."

Wants Member
 If the amendment is passed, the association recommended that the State Health Department be designated to administer and supervise the program and that an NPHA representative be included in a proposed state health planning council.

The NPHA urged the establishment of regional health boards with taxing power to correspond in area with the 19 educational service units.

The NPHA also expressed support for a Senate bill initiated by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., which would prohibit federal grants for construction and operation of nursing homes and homes for the aged within states not requiring the licensing of such homes. The association suggested that Nebraska pass a licensing law.

Increased Income
 The association said that it

Curtis Praises Voc Tech School, Blasts Job Corps
 Hastings (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis visited the Central Nebraska Vocational Technical School at the former Naval Ammunition Depot near Hastings Friday and later told the Hastings Rotary Club the school is "one of the finest things this area has accomplished."

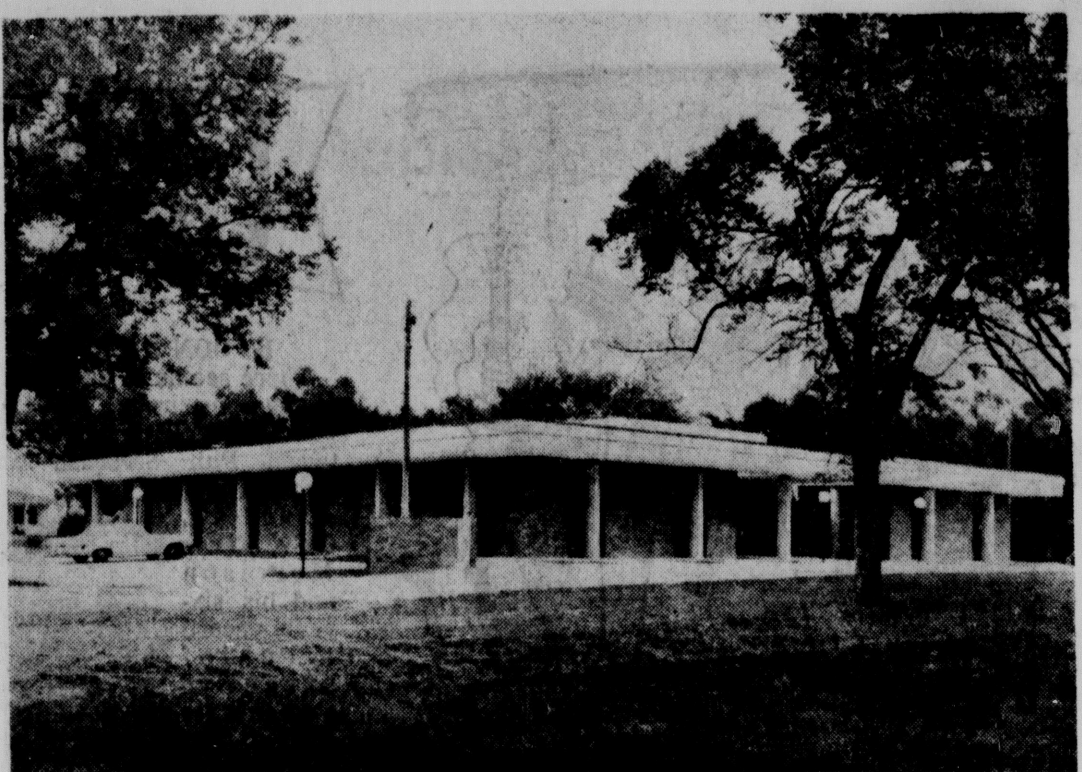

The senator, who is seeking re-election, called the Johnson Administration's War on Poverty "another example of how big government can spend millions of dollars in a fruitless attempt to solve problems."

He cited the Job Corps Center in Lincoln as an example of such waste noting that the cost to taxpayers will be $7,000 per year per corpsman. He said a student could attend any university or college in Nebraska for only a fraction of that cost.

Curtis, a Republican, is opposed in the Senate race by Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison.

Several Propose Wahoo Bypass

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau
 Wahoo — In an apparent reversal of a stand taken three years ago, several Wahoo citizens proposed a bypass of their city of Hwy. 77, 30A, and 92.

Several people, led by Paul Seidell, proposed to the State Highway Advisory Commission an alternate route outside the corporate limits but still close to town for the three highways which converge through the city.

The idea apparently is not unanimously supported locally. The Chamber of Commerce supports the bypass for 30A and 92, but would like to keep Hwy. 77 through the town, extending it straight north on the present route to intersect with the bypass north of town.

"This is the worst problem area in the state of Nebraska," Seidell said.

Speaking for the City of Fremont, Dodge County and the Fremont Chamber of Commerce, Lyle Gill said "we urge the Commission to recommend and allocate funds to relocate Highway 275 east of Fremont."

The highway route down Bell St. in Fremont "has been a problem for 20 years," Gill said.

Improved highway access to the north and east and improvement of roads to the south and west were urged by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

Don Wolfe, representing the Lincoln Chamber, asked for the paving of State Hwy. 79 from Prague to North Bend, and the extension of State 79 north to Scribner as a new addition to the state highway system.

He also plugged for improved highway connections to Duluth and Minneapolis, in Minnesota, to Lincoln and Beatrice in Nebraska and to Salina, Kan., via a proposed new north-south Interstate Highway which would be known as I-80W.

Earlier, at a hearing at Syracuse, the Lincoln Chamber urged the construction of a new Interstate 80 interchange at the Platte River crossing to connect with both Ashland and the South Bend, Louisville and Plattsmouth vicinities.

Other projects recommended by the Chamber at Syracuse included the improvement of U.S. 77 south to Beatrice and the extension of the Alvo spur to a new I-80 interchange as part of the state highway system.

Long-term planning was recommended for new diagonal routes between Lincoln and Columbus, Lincoln and Superior and Lincoln and Fall City to expedite travel to the State Capitol, the Legislature, the University of Nebraska, the State Fair and NU football games, and to provide improved service from Lincoln to outstate Nebraska.

Bruce Gillan, planning engineer for the State Highway Department, estimated cost of the projects asked for at Wahoo at $37 million.

There was $10.2 million allocated for the district in the current biennium, and the next allocation is expected to be 25% lower.

A number of requests —

some new, some replays on conditions still needing attention — greeted the advisory commissioners in Wahoo.

The requests included:

- Improved surfacing of State Spur 602 from Henderson to Hwy. 34 to increase load limits.
- Resurfacing of Hwy. 81 from York to Hwy. 30A-92 west of Osceola.
- Hard surfacing State 39 south from Silver Creek to 30A-92.
- Hard surfacing State 76 between Shelby and Gresham and a new road extending it south from Waco to Ester.
- Hard surfacing State 66 between Dwight and Valparaiso.
- Widening and resurfacing Hwy. 30A-92 west of Weston to the State 79 intersection.
- Increase U.S. 73 to four lanes between Blair and Omaha.
- Hard surfacing of a spur to Garrison from Hwy. 30A-92.
- New road from Bellevue to LaPlatte.
- Hard surfacing and adding to state system the road from Cedar Bluffs to State 79 south of Morse Bluff.
- New road along old State 370 route from I-80 to U.S. 73.

Warlike Noise From China Defensive, Says AP Analyst

Kearney (AP) — The warlike noise coming from China is defensive noise, Associated Press news analyst William L. Ryan told Nebraska AP members Friday night.

Ryan, whose world travels during the last 20 years have taken him to most of the world trouble spots, has recently returned from Southeast Asia where he talked with most of the leading personalities in that sensitive area.

What is going on in China today is of enormous importance to the rest of the world, and it goes far beyond whether Mao Tse-Tung is or is not just a figurehead at the moment, he said.

"China is at the moment in no shape for an adventure, for a military confrontation with the awesome power of the United States or for a test of nerve with the Russians," Ryan said. "She seems to be cautious. The enemy at the door is convenient."

"Such a nation in such a situation must have an outside enemy to excuse internal measures and support the regimentation with which such leaders nail down their authority," Ryan explained.

One view of China's internal situation is that China may be inhibited from dangerous acts because of her internal uproar, he stated.

But there is another view, he added, one "which gives onlookers the jitters." This, Ryan said, is a view of "a China building nuclear potential despite her poverty. China with her vast population mass, could fall into the hands of men desperate to retain their authority made even more desperate by the nation's progressive isolation. It is a nation bursting at the seams, a nation whose enormous population can cause it to explode."

Ryan was the banquet speaker at the annual meeting of the Nebraska Associated Press Newspaper Members Association, meeting here as guests of the Kearney Hub. Business sessions will be held Saturday morning.

State Constitution Needs Overhaul, Claims Tiemann

Omaha (AP) — Republican candidate for governor Norbert Tiemann said Friday that if elected, the first thing he will do is to start the wheels in motion for a constitutional convention.

The Wausa banker said the state's constitution was last overhauled in 1920 and needs modernizing.

The 1967 legislature could place the question on the ballot for 1968 with a three-fifths vote, he explained.

Tiemann said that in November Nebraskaans will vote on 18 constitutional amendments. This is too many, he said, and besides, "this is a piecemeal approach."

The Republican candidate spoke at the opening of a South Omaha campaign headquarters.

Better Items Show Up This Year

Lincoln Star Special
 Gothenburg — Nebraska's inventors apparently aren't as productive as they have been previously, but they're turning out better items.

"The quality of the displays and inventions is quite improved, but we're not as heavy in numbers," reported David Osterhout as the annual Nebraska Inventors Congress opened here Friday.

The 52 items, under 10 classifications, is "a little under last year," said the director of the Division of Nebraska Resources, which co-sponsors the congress with the State Chamber of Commerce.

Purpose of the yearly get-together, explained Osterhout, is "to show these people how they can protect their inventions, then how to develop and market them."

And last year's overall winner, George Wright of Lincoln, gave testimony to its effectiveness as the creators met for breakfast Friday morning.

The designer of a patented fish bait carrier told the group, "I was able to get this item into production, and it's doing quite well." He explained the sales and advertising procedures that have gotten the product on the market through a manufacturer.

Bob Henderson, an Omaha patent attorney, gave a rundown of patent procedures.

Model Car Racing
 Drawing considerable attention is the brainchild of local resident Marvin Widholm. He has modified the popular model car slot racing sport with a 40-foot-diameter track on which the scale reproduction racers run at the command of operators sitting at controls similar to a normal automobile.

Gage Board Again Refuses To Approve Extension Budget

Beatrice (UPI)—The Gage County Board of Supervisors, asserting it is not a "rubber stamp" for the various departments of county government, Friday again refused to approve the 1966-67 county extension budget.

The action came in the wake of a vote several days ago by the county extension board to file a writ of mandamus in district court against the supervisors for not allowing the proposed extension budget.

Ed F. Shalla, chairman of the supervisors, said the board takes the position it has an obligation to all Gage County citizens, rural and urban, to hold tax spending down to what is really necessary.

In a statement Shalla said: "The county board is aware of the law which allows certain boards and officers to determine their budgetary needs, but the county board has requested the co-operation of all county officers and the various departments of county government to hold the line on expenditures so as not to place an unbearable burden on the taxpayers."

He said the supervisors believe present extension salaries "are sufficient and in line with or in excess of salaries paid in this community for similar services and qualifications."

Under state law, the county board is directed to set aside an amount equal to the county extension budget. The law stipulates the sum shall not exceed $7,500 or an amount equal to a .4 mill levy on the dollar upon the assessed value of any taxable (tangible) property, whichever is the greater.

The county extension board said earlier this week that it was asking only about 35% of the limit permitted by the laws.

Shalla said the fact that the statutes allow a .4 mill levy or $7,500, whichever is greater "does not mean it is mandatory to spend this much tax money."

He said his board has questioned the cost of the services rendered by extension personnel and believes any salary increases for extension workers "would cause the cost of the service rendered to exceed the service to the taxpayers."

Beaver Creek Survey Urged

Washington (AP)—Rep. Dave Martin, R-Ne., has called for an Army Engineers survey of flood problems on Beaver Creek in Nebraska and Kansas.

He introduced a measure to authorize the survey to look into damages caused by floods, bank erosion and other related water resource problems.

Martin said more than $3.5 million in damages has resulted in the southwestern Nebraska and northwestern Kansas area in recent years.

The bill was referred to the House Public Works Committee, which is considering an omnibus works authorization bill.

Retiree Decides He'd Rather Manage Millwork Shop Himself

By ROBERT PETERSON
Q. "I retired at 65 from the lumber business. Then last year two fellows came and asked me to put up $50,000 so they could start a millwork shop. They said one would be manager and the other a salesman, and that they'd give me one-third of the profits. I said I'd rather put up my money, hire myself as manager and salesman, and keep three-thirds of the profits for myself. They walked out the door mumbling, 'What can you do with a senile old coot like that?' Well, this old coot took the idea, started a millwork shop, and last year netted over $4,000. How's that?"

A. Pretty good. Many older men have a wealth of experience which can be turned into cash. Sometimes it helps to have younger men do the leg work in operating a new business. But older men in good health can often function better on their own—and get more pleasure and profits in the bargain.

Q. "When I got married I took five years off my age so as not to be older than my husband. I've kept this a secret from him for 32 years and it's been terribly hard on my nerves for there have been so many times when he nearly found out. Now I'm sick and eligible for Medicare, except that I can't apply for it since he thinks I'm only 60. Should

I make a clean breast of things at this late date?"
A. I'd vote yes. If he's any kind of a husband he'll get a kick rather than a grumble out of it—especially if it will save hard cash on medical bills. Apparently you've learned that real problems arise when we lie about our age. Worst of all, it makes age seem an ogre instead of a friend.
Q. "I loved your column about the 75-year-old masseur who loves to work not only for the money but because it makes him feel he's helping others. Wouldn't it be great if the government encouraged this sort of thing, rather than using its agencies to convince people they're washed up at 62 and 65 and must fade away and start collecting social security?"

A. Sure would be. We need a big national campaign to convince healthy elders that despite being 65 or more they are still capable of new careers and productive service in many fields. Too many people get the impression that once they're 65 years old they're incapable of anything more strenuous than hobbling to the door for their social security check.

Q. "My husband is nutty about old cars. When he retired the firm gave him $500 and he promptly spent it to buy a 1928 Model T. He's spent six months fixing it up. Now he wants to spend $600 on an old, broken-down Pierce-Arrow. Isn't this ridiculous?"
A. Not if it gives him pleasure and he can afford it. Actually, old cars in good condition are a sound investment for they keep increasing in value.

Most Young Motorists' Accidents Caused By Speeding, Study Shows

By JOHN ARMSTRONG
Associated Press Writer
Traffic accidents involving young motorists are most likely to be caused by speeding or following too close and generally occur on weekend nights.
Mishaps involving motorists between 20 and 60 years of age tend to happen during the morning and evening rush hours and more likely are caused by the improper actions of younger or older drivers.
The reason for most accidents involving elderly drivers can be traced to a failure to yield the right of way, possibly due to failing eyesight, hearing or reflexes, and such accidents tend to occur during the mid-afternoon or early evening.
These are some of the findings of a unique and exhaustive study, by the State Accident Research Bureau of nearly 17,000 accidents on Nebraska highways and streets last year.
Bureau Chief Tom Ryan said the study, possibly the first of its kind ever conducted, provides information on which to base educational programs aimed at specific age groups.
Study Confirms
"For the first time, we'll be able to point the finger at particular age groups and back up our statements with facts," said Ryan. "This study confirms that there is a definite pattern of violations according to the age of drivers."

Ryan said the study showed that the factors and circumstances surrounding accidents involving young drivers are dominated by speeding.
In the accidents involving drivers aged 15 to 24, speeding was the major violation, with following too close many times caused by speeding, second on the list.
Accidents involving drivers aged 15 to 24 tend to result from running off the road and generally do not involve more than one car, but they are more likely to cause death because of the higher speeds.
The study indicated that teenage drivers are more apt to hit pedestrians — 30% of the persons killed in accidents involving 17-year-old drivers were pedestrians, for example.
Ryan said he was surprised at the number of accidents involving teenagers and young adults which were caused by drinking or falling asleep.
Major Factor
Drinking generally was a major accident factor last year for all motorists up to 70 years of age, but Ryan said drinking by youthful drivers presented the greatest hazard.

In addition motorists aged 17 to 23 were more prone to cause accidents by falling asleep at the wheel than were older drivers, perhaps, Ryan said, because youths do more driving at night.
Other findings:
—Younger and older drivers are more apt to be at fault in accidents than are drivers aged 31 to 50.
—There is an increase in the percentage of cars with seat belts but a drop in the percentage of seat belts in use at the time of accidents.
—More than half of the accidents involving teenage drivers occurred on county roads, while the average for accidents involving drivers of all ages was only 20%.

Terrytown Housing Loan Is Approved
Washington (AP)—A $12,000 loan to Terrytown, Neb., for preliminary planning of 64 low-rent houses has been announced by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

NASON ON EDUCATION:

Mother Ponders Return To School

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON
Dear Dr. Nason:
All I think about lately is the education I could have had when I went to high school for four years. Unfortunately, this was during the war years and everything was quite hectic. Now that my four children are well along in school, I have some time on my hands and would like very much to go back to school. But I don't have the time nor patience a teenager has to go through seven or eight subjects. Neither do I know what courses are best to take.
I would appreciate any advice you can give me on how to further my education.
N.D., North Bergen, N.J.
Answer:
Returning to school looms up as a major undertaking when thought of in terms of "seven or eight subjects."

Somewhere in your area, there is probably a high school or junior college offering courses for adults. Telephone for an appointment with a counselor. With his help, you can choose one subject and make it your first goal to master just this one.

Your success in a well chosen first course will help determine the course to follow. Your long-term plans will unfold in due time.
Dear Dr. Nason:
Our daughter started life in a Spanish-speaking family. Although she has always known herself to be an American and therefore feels that she knows English, she lacks just enough command of the language to be an efficient reader. To understand what she reads takes a good deal of conscious effort. At present, she seems unprepared to make such an effort.
I would be extremely grateful for any suggestions.
C. J. C., Wayne, Pa.
Answer:
For your daughter, English is a second language. Although she has the advantage of using this language daily in school and in play with other children, she must learn to think in English.
Encourage her to work toward thinking in English while reading. Have her try this simple exercise: After studying a page of reading matter in a homework assignment, she should reread the material with conscious effort to eliminate Spanish entirely from her thoughts and see in her mind the ideas presented on the page while reading the English words.
Sometimes, two or three readings of the same page will help. The exercise should be repeated at least once a day for an extended period.

Meet Star Carrier Mark Lowry

Courtesy, a sense of responsibility and knowing how to meet people are important in any business — but they are especially desirable traits for a young man who wants to enter the advertising and promotion field.
That's one of the reasons why Mark Lowry of Lincoln is happy to be a newspaper boy. He says that managing a route for The Lincoln Star has helped him to acquire these traits.
He also picks up a $25 profit every four weeks as a very pleasant benefit of his job. So far, most of his earnings have been spent on clothing and entertainment. But now that he is approaching the legal age for operating a motor vehicle, Mark is planning to save up enough to buy a car as soon as possible. In this connection, his interest in mechanics should be a real help.

Progress For Nebraska

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Nebraska should be encouraged as a result of action of the Public Works subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee. This action includes the appropriation of $3.4 million for Bureau of Reclamation projects throughout the state, flood control and irrigation programs that will enhance the future of Nebraska and provide additional opportunities for its people.

A most important item in the subcommittee recommendations is $500,000 for planning and engineering on the proposed 345-kilovolt transmission line from Ft. Thompson Dam in South Dakota to Grand Island, Neb. This line has a maximum capacity of some 400,000 kilowatts of power, of which 350,000 kilowatts could be effectively utilized by Nebraska. The funds involved still have some congressional hurdles to clear but the news of the subcommittee action is encouraging. If all went well, this line could be completed by the summer of 1969 and that would be none too early.

There is some dispute as to the cause of this summer's power blackout in Nebraska but many competent authorities agree that the problem can be traced to inadequate supply and transmission facilities. This large bloc of power from the federal dam in South Dakota, at a highly competitive low rate, is just what this state needs by way of supply.

There are plans in the works, such as the 230-KV line by Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District from Grand Island to North Platte, that would help integrate the federal power into the Nebraska system. With our transmission network expanded and our supply beefed up from the north, the state would be in a much improved position.

Another mark of progress in Nebraska was seen in the David City celebration of this week. The citizenry of David City and visiting dignitaries turned out for ceremonies in honor of the rejuvenation of the downtown area. The improvements that have taken place in this community are a testimonial to the initiative and ingenuity of a people who don't know when to quit. Like many small towns, David City could shrug its shoulders and wait for the inevitable end that is so often predicted for towns of this size. But the people there have decided, instead, to do something about the challenges that face them.

They are making their community an attractive place in which to live and do business. Many new homes can be seen and the central business district is as attractive as any and more so than most. It takes this kind of initiative for survival these days. Not just the small towns, but the major cities must face up to their responsibilities or watch their populations decline and their opportunities shrink. The competition for business and industry and labor is too keen for any community to expect a share of it simply as a matter of right or of the natural turn of events. David City is to be complimented for the effort it is making and its people will find over the years that the sacrifices they have made have not been in vain.

An interesting observation on Nebraska can be seen in the pages of the Sidney Telegraph. On its editorial page, the Telegraph discusses the construction of the Interstate through rural and urban Nebraska. In this connection, the Telegraph editorial states:

"It has been our opinion since I-80 work started in Nebraska that initial emphasis should be where the traffic is heaviest and the hazard to human life the greatest. This would mean the Omaha-Lincoln area, and less outstate. The question is: Do you build roads for their prime purpose, or do you build them for political reasons? In other words, do first things come first, or is it more important to keep the outstate people happy?"

This is a highly commendable attitude, not because it might tend to be of an assistance to Omaha or Lincoln, but because it represents the kind of spirit that ought to prevail throughout the state. Too often, we get bogged down in the parochialism of our own thought. Too often we look, not at the right or wrong of a situation, but who it will help and how. Too often we fail to see the benefit in something to others due to our excessive concern with our own loss. Outstate Nebraska should be concerned over the welfare of all Nebraska metropolitan areas and vice versa.

Lincoln and Omaha should be vitally interested in good roads through the state, not just in their own areas. The same thing applies to educational, agricultural and tourism pursuits across all of Nebraska. Unfortunately, many worthwhile efforts are hampered because of ill-founded prejudice and jealousy between various areas of the state. With the kind of cooperation shown in the Telegraph, Nebraska could accomplish great things.

Beyond Our Noses

Write-off Saved For Farmers

When President L. B. Johnson recently proposed to suspend the 7 percent investment tax credit as a means for bringing the economy into better balance, many special interest groups began campaigns to be exceptions. That included the depressed areas, the railroads, the airlines and others.

But for once the farmer was the only lucky one. As the measure stands at present he cannot have the whole credit. But he is in line for a write-off of $1,050. He can invest in new and better equipment that far with a tax write off.

The credit was extended a few years ago to encourage economic growth in proportion to need. Now, it seems that the continued expansion of equipment and plant is depriving the economy of operating capital enough to unbalance the economy somewhat.

The special case made of the farmer was not particularly based on sympathy for him, nor because he represented a depressed element in the economy. It was rather made because food production has been brought to the narrow edge of meeting demand. The welfare of the country demands more farm products to be on the safe side. The quickest way to better farm production is investment in better equipment. But at any rate it carries the promise, at least fractionally, of a better deal for agriculture.

There are at least two flaws in the excuse of agriculture from a measure of taxation. It is a precedent, and a gate through which other elements of the economy can pass. If this takes place, then the remedy sought by the general cancellation of the write-off will be lost, at the expense of national economic stability.

The other flaw is that it can cause an overextension of capital in the farm production picture and a return ultimately to the old problem of surplus.

A Sacrifice In Planning

Lincoln has cause to be proud of the compliment paid by Dr. Murlin Hodgell, director of the University of Nebraska School of Architecture. Relatively new to this city, Dr. Hodgell stated that Lincoln is "a real oasis—the result of good city planning and workable regional plan."

In other words, Lincoln is an attractive city within a well conceived and developed pattern of land use. Such a situation has not just happened nor is it an everyday occurrence across the country.

Many cities are plagued with commercial developments that have found their being strictly in the profit motive. They are the product of land speculation and an unchecked competitive urge.

Very often, planning is attacked as an enemy of the free enterprise system. It is said that it stifles competition and denies the land owner the rightful use of his property as he sees fit. There is no doubt that good planning means the sacrifice of some economic freedom. But in the end, it is a friend to the free enterprise system through its protection of land values and investments. It provides for free enterprise a certain stability that encourages future growth, that protects it against economic excesses.

Good planning encourages business and industry by providing some guarantee of the validity of investment. It means an orderly and efficient use of land, not a system of high speculation that leaves heavy scars upon the physical face of the community. Without planning, we would have a constant boom and bust in land development; we would have values here today and gone tomorrow, discouraging everyone from making a serious effort to succeed in business.

ments of radium were lost in transit. The search for this dangerous material is still unsuccessful. Even the route taken by the radium containers is uncertain.

More recently it has become known that the Atomic Energy Commission has had no satisfactory system of checking on enriched uranium, and therefore no procedure providing full protection against diversion of this fissionable material from which atomic bombs can be made.

Steps are being taken to plug these particular loopholes, but the incidents suggest the existence of a deeper problem deriving from complacency, from the fact that no major disaster here has yet marred the nuclear age. It is indicative that in its 442-page last annual report the Atomic Energy Commission saw fit to devote less than half a page to the problem of lost radioactive materials.

The unease caused by the latest revelations is particularly great because of the vast expansion that now promises to take place both in the use of radioactive substances for medical and industrial purposes, and in the erection of giant atomic energy plants in many parts of the country. This expansion inevitably brings greater dangers of injury or death to many people unless there is far more adequate vigilance than has yet been indicated.

Poverty Program Reminds Of WPA

WASHINGTON — Back in New Deal days, when the nation was pulling itself out of the great depression by its bootstraps, the most criticized agency in government was WPA. And the most criticized man in government was the WPA administrator, Harry Hopkins.

Yet WPA, despite its abuse, saved thousands of people from desperation, and left constructive projects behind, ranging from drained swamps to portraits painted by poverty-stricken artists for public buildings.

Today the counterpart of WPA is OEO, the Office of Equal Opportunity, better known as the anti-poverty program. The man who rivals Harry Hopkins in being kicked around is Sargent Shriver.

This week, however, the United Fund and Community Chest organizations, two thousand strong, representing the Red Feather agencies throughout the United States, endorsed the anti-poverty program and stated that its agencies would cooperate. It was a significant vote of confidence.

"Personnel should be made available to this program on a lend-lease basis if necessary by both voluntary agencies and corporations," said the United Community Funds. "Voluntary community fund-raising groups should include funds in their budgets to match government appropriations."

The statement was signed by Joe Beirne, the United Community Fund president, who is also president of the Communication Workers of America; together with Donald Frost, vice president of Bristol-Myers; Harry Sealy, vice president of the Cleveland Illuminating Company; Walter Wheeler, Jr., chairman of Pitney-Bowes, and others.

Religious organizations have already supported the war on poverty; also the American Bar Association has developed legal services for the poor; the American Medical Association has designed the blueprints for neighborhood health centers. The nation's mayors and governors are strongly supporting OEO.

Chief dissenters seem to be Adam Clayton Powell and House Republicans.

If you want to know why the U.S. Senate, with the largest liberal majority in history, failed to pass the civil rights bill, here is the answer from LBJ himself.

He gave it to a meeting of his cabinet the other day in four words — "black power and Stokely Carmichael."

To which the President added: "he's a young man who doesn't know his rear end from his elbow. Yet he defeated the civil rights bill."

Hatfield Seen As Even In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore.—As the old jingle has it, for Gov. Mark Hatfield, today is the day they give babies away with half a pound of tea.

Over their breakfast table, Oregonians got with the Oregonian, their immensely influential newspaper, a strong and detailed endorsement of Hatfield for senator despite its disagreement with his emphasis on peace in Viet Nam. That agreement, firm and consistent, had led Democrats to hope that the Oregonian would at least be neutral in the close race between their pro-Johnson nominee, Rep. Robert Duncan, and the moderate Republican governor.

The Oregonian labels itself independent Republican. It is probably less liberal than either candidate. Yet Hatfield is a cautious man, and Duncan is a careful man with a nickel as benefits his Scottish ancestry.

The Oregonian admitted it but gave greater weight to the need for a loyal opposition to save the country from "one-party, one-man government." President Johnson, said the editorial, "does not need any more 100 percenters in his consensus."

The betting fraternity here has not laid odds on either senate candidate. One source says it is refusing to risk its own money on the race.

If, as Hatfield hopes, the Oregonian can rally Republicans, notably those whom it describes as "emotionally charged up by the war in Viet Nam," that situation could change. Democrats here are deeply divided and, being Democrats, are less susceptible to unity appeals.

The governor had been much alone in his re-election efforts.

His carefully plotted advance on Washington following eight years in the statehouse was impeded by Viet Nam even before the Duncan bomb fell. Duncan grabbed his chance when Hatfield refused to soften his negotiated peace demands, and made a strong primary showing for the seat being vacated by Maurine Neuberger.

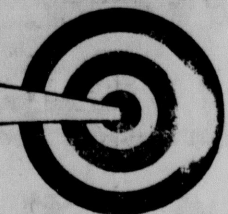

The Republican national and Senate campaign committees have not been exactly generous with cash for Hatfield in his hour of need.

Their few national figures do not fit the picture here, and Hatfield has politely intimated that he fears Richard Nixon bringing the special Nixon fights.

Political reporters here saw the governor has been a loner anyway throughout his successful career. They believe that Duncan, who they also observed at work in the state capital, would win far greater acceptance in the Senate establishment. But like the Kennedys, notoriously averse to working their way up, Hatfield seeks national recognition as opposed to scrambling for favors from the impregnable Democratic Senate majority.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

There seems to be a subtle change occurring in the gubernatorial contest between Phil Sorensen and Nobby Tiemann.

Suddenly, Gov. Frank Morrison and his six-year record as chief executive seems to have become the primary issue.

Tiemann recently has been directing most of his fire at the Morrison record, then tying Sorensen to that record.

Sorensen is defending Morrison's programs and promising to build upon them.

Both gubernatorial nominees and their parties have expressed general agreement on most of the subjects which could have become issues in this campaign, particularly taxation.

Major disagreement to date has been over the proposal to seek a vote of the people this year on a constitutional amendment to permit revenue bond financing of future highway construction.

Tiemann favored a vote this year; Sorensen opposed a vote on the issue now, preferring to await the results and recommendations of the legislative highway study.

Both nominees saw to it that their party platforms spelled out this difference.

Now, with taxation fast fading as a point of direct contention, and with the time having past for a revenue bond vote this fall, the emphasis seems to have turned to Frank Morrison and his record.

Tiemann made it clear some weeks ago (as far back as the May fund-raising dinner in Lincoln featuring Governor Romney) that Nebraska's Republican Party is in for a restructuring process if he wins the governorship.

Those who are in positions of responsibility who have failed to perform fully can be placed in positions of lesser responsibility, Tiemann has suggested.

That sort of talk, naturally, raised speculation with GOP ranks as to who might go and who might stay.

While the answers to that questioning are far from certain, it has become rather clear that one who would stay, and whose responsibility might even increase, would be Jack Schuetz, the state executive secretary.

Tiemann has gone out of his way to praise Schuetz at recent party gatherings, and the state convention approving a resolution commending Schuetz for "his many efforts on behalf of the Republican Party of Nebraska." No other party officials were so recognized.

Finishing up:

—It was never officially introduced, but a resolution was prepared at the AFL-CIO state convention in Fremont to move Nebraska to a more populous area like California in order to better distribute the tax load.

—Note to John Everroad: Your press releases will now all be cleared first with RR.

—Governor Connolly told newsmen in Lincoln that he has no plans "anytime soon" to seek a U.S. Senate seat, although he did note that the next opening will come in 1970 when his Democratic rival in Texas, Senator Yarborough, completes his present term.

—AFL-CIO delegates passed the hat at Fremont and raised $239 for five union members who are seeking legislative posts. They are Rudolph Andersen and Harold Simpson, both of Lincoln; Don Bastemeyer and Bill Bloom, both of Omaha; and Don Elrod of Grand Island.

—Ray Bliss told Nebraska Republicans at their state convention just how low the party's fortunes have fallen nationally. The GOP now controls only six state legislatures.

—Nobby Tiemann jokingly compared his joint appearances with Phil Sorensen to the Lincoln-Douglas debates. "Just remember," he told Republican delegates, "I'm Lincoln."

—Security arrangements for Richard Nixon's press conference in Omaha were so tight that the GOP convention's press coordinator, jovial Sam Jensen, was barred at the door for a time. "But I'm in charge of the press conference," he waived.

—Nixon told the $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner that Tiemann is "a new star on the Republican horizon."

—A Kentucky distillery recently tested Platte River water and pronounced it as good as Kentucky spring water for the bourbon industry. Coming: Big Red Eye.

—Isn't the school bus amendment billboard which urges Nebraska voters to "Help Keep Our State Fair" more than a bit misleading?

—Who the heck is in charge of keeping Lincoln fly-free?

Education Need

Milford, Neb.

I see by recent news reports where the University of Nebraska increased their request for state funds by 91%. That is a lot of money, but we as citizens of this state must remember that the population has been increasing very rapidly these last 20 years and that we must provide schools and education for our young people.

My wife and I were the parents of two children and our hope and aim were that we might rear them and educate them. My wife believed that they should have a Christian education also. I think our children speak for themselves. With such a background, young people can and will go out and be useful in the communities in which they live.

There is only one way to provide an education for our wonderful group of young people, and that is through our tax system. By the tax plan which I recently suggested, all the people of the state would be supporting schools and colleges. I saw a tax plan that the governor had outlined, but couldn't see where he offered much relief to property owners or farmers. Perhaps I didn't understand his plan completely, but any way you look at it, there has to be a tax law on the books that will be just and fair to everyone.

I have spoken to some young people about buying homes for themselves and their answer has been consistent — no, taxes are too high and interest rates are too high. If this trend continues, the buying of property will come to an all-time low.

Everyone interested should write to those in office, giving their views and wishes. Unless a person makes his problems known, those responsible cannot do what they think is best. We will be spending huge sums of money to educate our young people and they must have employment here where they will establish homes and become taxpayers, or we will surely lose them to other states.

Can't Forget

Lincoln, Neb.

I read in The Star a Tass report about the Nazi victims found in a moat near the Latvian city of Daugavpils. The report has effects not noticed by the authors.

As we know, in 1940 the USSR illegally occupied the Latvian territory. Thousands of innocent Latvian patriots were arrested during the night raids and then disappeared. In the next year when the Nazi army defeated the Reds, mass graves were found in different spots of Latvia, with the lost Latvian citizens. One of my relatives was found in such a moat near the White Lake, in Latvian Baltezers, quite close to Riga, the capital of Latvia.

This and other crimes like it happened before the Nazi occupation, and the Latvian people can't forget it.

Price History

Hastings, Neb.

Members of the 89th Congress and other Americans who are crying about the awfulness of government spending and blaming the Johnson administration for the inflationary trend of 1966 are actually the very ones who are getting the full benefit. Indeed, they encourage individuals and families to buy beyond their means, which creates inflation.

Nebraskans must remember that Nebraska is still an agricultural state. Some Nebraska farmers are describing their neighbors as "crazy" because they are paying from $200 to $700 for farm land. Paying such a price per acre is not only beyond reason but contrary to reason. Over a period of 30 or 40 years, most farm land in Nebraska will not give a return of four per cent on the investment. The great number of farmers who lost their farms during the recession of the early 1920's and others who lost their farms during the great depression of the early 1930's are positive proof of this.

Consider the number of farmers who were trying to pay for $225-per-acre land with hogs at three cents, corn at eight to 12 cents per bushel, and wheat at 18 to 24 cents per bushel in 1932. Cattle feeders who put feeder cattle in their feed yards in 1932 had those cattle ugly fat in the fall of 1933, and the price was $4 per hundred pounds. That was exactly the price of feeder cattle in the fall of 1932.

Individuals and families who have taken good care of their money and credit have nothing to fear about either inflation or a depression, but to say that such a depression as that of the early 1930's could not possibly occur again is wishful thinking, if it can be described as "thinking."

Three recent incidents have raised serious questions about the adequacy of existing controls over radioactive materials. On two occasions last summer shipments of radium were lost in transit. The search for this dangerous material is still unsuccessful. Even the route taken by the radium containers is uncertain.

More recently it has become known that the Atomic Energy Commission has had no satisfactory system of checking on enriched uranium, and therefore no procedure providing full protection against diversion of this fissionable material from which atomic bombs can be made.

Steps are being taken to plug these particular loopholes, but the incidents suggest the existence of a deeper problem deriving from complacency, from the fact that no major disaster here has yet marred the nuclear age. It is indicative that in its 442-page last annual report the Atomic Energy Commission saw fit to devote less than half a page to the problem of lost radioactive materials.

The unease caused by the latest revelations is particularly great because of the vast expansion that now promises to take place both in the use of radioactive substances for medical and industrial purposes, and in the erection of giant atomic energy plants in many parts of the country. This expansion inevitably brings greater dangers of injury or death to many people unless there is far more adequate vigilance than has yet been indicated.

Poverty Program Reminds Of WPA

WASHINGTON — Back in New Deal days, when the nation was pulling itself out of the great depression by its bootstraps, the most criticized agency in government was WPA. And the most criticized man in government was the WPA administrator, Harry Hopkins.

Yet WPA, despite its abuse, saved thousands of people from desperation, and left constructive projects behind, ranging from drained swamps to portraits painted by poverty-stricken artists for public buildings.

Today the counterpart of WPA is OEO, the Office of Equal Opportunity, better known as the antipoverty program. The man who rivals Harry Hopkins in being kicked around is Sargent Shriver.

This week, however, the United Fund and Community Chest organizations, two thousand strong, representing the Red Feather agencies throughout the United States, endorsed the anti-poverty program, and stated that its agencies would cooperate. It was a significant vote of confidence.

"Personnel should be made available to this program on a lend-lease basis if necessary by both voluntary agencies and corporations," said the United Community Funds. "Voluntary community fund-raising groups should include funds in their budgets to match government appropriations."

The statement was signed by Joe Beirne, the United Community Fund president, who is also president of the Communication Workers of America; together with Donald Frost, vice president of Bristol-Myers; Harry Sealy, vice president of the Cleveland Illuminating Company; Walter Wheeler, Jr., chairman of Pitney-Bowes, and others.

Religious organizations have already supported the war on poverty; also the American Bar Association has developed legal services for the poor; the American Medical Association has designed the blueprints for neighborhood health centers. The nation's mayors and governors are strongly supporting OEO.

Chief dissenters seem to be Adam Clayton Powell and House Republicans.

If you want to know why the U.S. Senate, with the largest liberal majority in history, failed to pass the civil rights bill, here is the answer from LBJ himself.

He gave it to a meeting of his cabinet the other day in four words — "black power and Stokely Carmichael."

To which the President added: "he's a young man who doesn't know his rear end from his elbow. Yet he defeated the civil rights bill."

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

There seems to be a subtle change occurring in the gubernatorial contest between Phil Sorensen and Nobby Tiemann.

Suddenly, Gov. Frank Morrison and his six-year record as chief executive seems to have become the primary issue.

Walton

Tiemann recently has been directing most of his fire at the Morrison record, then tying Sorensen to that record.

Sorensen is defending Morrison's programs and promising to build upon them.

Both gubernatorial nominees and their parties have expressed general agreement on most of the subjects which could have become issues in this campaign, particularly taxation.

Major disagreement to date has been over the proposal to seek a vote of the people this year on a constitutional amendment to permit revenue bond financing of future highway construction.

Tiemann favored a vote this year; Sorensen opposed a vote on the issue now, preferring to await the results and recommendations of the legislative highway study.

Both nominees saw to it that their party platforms spelled out this difference.

Now, with taxation fast fading as a point of direct contention, and with the time having past for a revenue bond vote this fall, the emphasis seems to have turned to Frank Morrison and his record.

Tiemann made it clear some weeks ago (as far back as the May fund-raising dinner in Lincoln featuring Governor Romney) that Nebraska's Republican Party is in for a restructuring process if he wins the governorship.

Those who are in positions of responsibility who have failed to perform fully can be placed in positions of lesser responsibility, Tiemann has suggested.

That sort of talk, naturally, raised speculation with GOP ranks as to who might go and who might stay.

While the answers to that questioning are far from certain, it has become rather clear that one who would stay, and whose responsibility might even increase, would be Jack Schuetz, the state executive secretary.

Tiemann has gone out of his way to praise Schuetz at recent party gatherings, and the state convention approved a resolution commending Schuetz for "his many efforts on behalf of the Republican Party of Nebraska." No other party officials were so recognized.

Finishing up:

It was never officially introduced, but a resolution was prepared at the AFL-CIO state convention in Fremont to move Nebraska to a more populous area like California in order to better distribute the tax load.

Note to John Everroad: Your press releases will now all be cleared first with RR.

Governor Connally told newsmen in Lincoln that he has no plans "anytime soon" to seek a U.S. Senate seat, although he did note that the next opening will come in 1970 when his Democratic rival in Texas, Senator Yarborough, completes his present term.

AFL-CIO delegates passed the hat at Fremont and raised $239 for five union members who are seeking legislative posts. They are Rudolph Andersen and Harold Simpson, both of Lincoln; Don Bastemeyer and Bill Bloom, both of Omaha, and Don Elrod of Grand Island.

Ray Bliss told Nebraska Republicans at their state convention just how low the party's fortunes have fallen nationally. The GOP now controls only six state legislatures.

Nobby Tiemann jokingly compared his joint appearances with Phil Sorensen to the Lincoln-Douglas debates. "Just remember," he told Republican delegates, "I'm Lincoln."

Security arrangements for Richard Nixon's press conference in Omaha were so tight that the GOP convention's press coordinator, Jovial Sam Jensen, was barred at the door for a time. "But I'm in charge of the press conference," he waived.

Nixon told the $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner that Tiemann is "a new star on the Republican horizon."

A Kentucky distillery recently tested Platte River water and pronounced it as good as Kentucky spring water for the bourbon industry. Coming: Big Red Eye.

Isn't the school bus amendment billboard which urges Nebraska voters to "Help Keep Our State Fair" more than a bit misleading?

Who the heck is in charge of keeping Lincoln fly-free?

Millard, Neb.

I see by recent news reports where the University of Nebraska increased their request for state funds by 91%. That is a lot of money, but we as citizens of this state must remember that the population has been increasing very rapidly these last 20 years and that we must provide schools and education for our young people. My wife and I were the parents of two children and our hope and aim were that we might rear them and educate them. My wife believed that they should have a Christian education also. I think our children speak for themselves. With such a background, young people can and will go out and be useful in the communities in which they live.

There is only one way to provide an education for our wonderful group of young people, and that is through our tax system. By the tax plan which I recently suggested, all the people of the state would be supporting schools and colleges. I saw a tax plan that the governor had outlined, but couldn't see where he offered much relief to property owners or farmers. Perhaps I didn't understand his plan completely, but any way you look at it, there has to be a tax law on the books that will be just and fair to everyone.

I have spoken to some young people about buying homes for themselves and their answer has been consistent — no, taxes are too high and interest rates are too high. If this trend continues, the buying of property will come to an all-time low. Everyone interested should write to those in office, giving their views and wishes. Unless a person makes his problems known, those responsible cannot do what they think is best. We will be spending huge sums of money to educate our young people and they must have employment here where they will establish homes and become taxpayers, or we will surely lose them to other states.

TOM C. GRAGG

I read in The Star a Tass report about the Nazi victims found in a moat near the Latvian city of Daugavpils. The report has effects not noticed by the authors.

As we know, in 1940 the USSR illegally occupied the Latvian territory. Thousands of innocent Latvian patriots were arrested during the night raids and then disappeared. In the next year when the Nazi army defeated the Reds, mass graves were found in different spots of Latvia, with the lost Latvian citizens. One of my relatives was found in such a moat near the White Lake, in Latvian Baltezers, quite close to Riga, the capital of Latvia. This and other crimes like it happened before the Nazi occupation, and the Latvian people can't forget it.

Price History

Hastings, Neb.

Members of the 89th Congress and other Americans who are crying about the awfulness of government spending and blaming the Johnson administration for the inflationary trend of 1966 are actually the very ones who are getting the full benefit. Indeed, they encourage individuals and families to buy beyond their means, which creates inflation.

Nebraskans must remember that Nebraska is still an agricultural state. Some Nebraska farmers are describing their neighbors as "crazy" because they are paying from $200 to $700 for farm land. Paying such a price per acre is not only beyond reason but contrary to reason. Over a period of 30 or 40 years, most farm land in Nebraska will not give a return of four per cent on the investment. The great number of farmers who lost their farms during the recession of the early 1920's and others who lost their farms during the great depression of the early 1930's are positive proof of this.

Consider the number of farmers who were trying to pay for $225-per-acre land with hogs at three cents, corn at eight to 12 cents per bushel, and wheat at 16 to 24 cents per bushel in 1932. Cattle feeders who put feeder cattle in their feed yards in 1932 had those cattle nearly fat in the fall of 1933, and the price was $4 per hundred pounds. That was exactly the price of feeder cattle in the fall of 1932.

Individuals and families who have taken good care of their money and credit have nothing to fear about either inflation or a depression, but to say that such a depression as that of the early 1930's could not possibly occur again is wishful thinking, if it can be described as "thinking."

Retiree Decides He'd Rather Manage Millwork Shop Himself

By ROBERT PETERSON
Q. "I retired at 65 from the lumber business. Then last year two fellows came and asked me to put up $50,000 so they could start a millwork shop. They said one would be manager and the other a salesman, and that they'd give me one-third of the profits. I said I'd rather put up my money, hire myself as manager and salesman, and keep three-thirds of the profits for myself. They walked out the door mumbling, 'What can you do with a senile old coot like that?' Well, this old coot took the idea, started a millwork shop, and last year netted over $4,000. How's that?"

A. Pretty good. Many older men have a wealth of experience which can be turned into cash. Sometimes it helps to have younger men do the leg work in operating a new business. But older men in good health can often function better on their own—and get more pleasure and profits in the bargain.

Q. "When I got married I took five years off my age so as not to be older than my husband. I've kept this a secret from him for 32 years and it's been terribly hard on my nerves for there have been so many times when he nearly found out. Now I'm sick and eligible for medicare, except that I can't apply for it since he thinks I'm only 60. Should

I make a clean breast of things at this late date?"
A. I'd vote yes. If he's any kind of a husband he'll get a kick rather than a grumble out of it—especially if it will save hard cash on medical bills. Apparently you've learned that real problems arise when we lie about our age. Worst of all, it makes age seem an ogre instead of a friend.
Q. "I loved your column about the 75-year-old maseur who loves to work not only for the money but because it makes him feel he's helping others. Wouldn't it be great if the government encouraged this sort of thing, rather than using its agencies to convince people they're washed up at 62 and 65 and must fade away and start collecting social security?"

A. Sure would be. We need a big national campaign to convince healthy elders that despite being 65 or more they are still capable of new careers and productive service in many fields. Too many people get the impression that once they're 65 years old they're incapable of anything more strenuous than hobbling to the door for their social security check.

Q. "My husband is nutty about old cars. When he retired the firm gave him $500 and he promptly spent it to buy a 1928 Model T. He's spent six months fixing it up. Now he wants to spend $600 on an old, broken-down Pierce-Arrow. Isn't this ridiculous?"
A. Not if it gives him pleasure and he can afford it. Actually, old cars in good condition are a sound investment for they keep increasing in value.

Dr. S. H. Flora, Nebraska state veterinarian, has received notice that Nebraska sheep can now be shipped into South Dakota without dipping. This is because Nebraska has been declared a scabies-free state.
South Dakota law still requires shippers to obtain permits, and the sheep must be accompanied by an official Nebraska health certificate.

Most Young Motorists' Accidents Caused By Speeding, Study Shows

By JOHN ARMSTRONG
Associated Press Writer
Traffic accidents involving young motorists are most likely to be caused by speeding or following too close and generally occur on weekend nights.
Mishaps involving motorists between 20 and 60 years of age tend to happen during the morning and evening rush hours and more likely are caused by the improper actions of younger or older drivers.
The reason for most accidents involving elderly drivers can be traced to a failure to yield the right of way, possibly due to failing eyesight, hearing or reflexes, and such accidents tend to occur during the mid-afternoon or early evening.
These were some of the findings of a unique and exhaustive study by the State Accident Records Bureau of nearly 17,000 accidents on Nebraska highways and streets last year.
Bureau Chief Tom Ryan said the study, possibly the first of its kind ever conducted, provided information on which to base educational programs aimed at specific age groups.
Study Confirms
"For the first time, we'll be able to point the finger at particular age groups and back up our statements with facts," said Ryan. "This study confirms that there is a definite pattern of violations according to the age of drivers."

Ryan said the study showed that the factors and circumstances surrounding accidents involving young drivers are dominated by speed.
In the accidents involving drivers aged 15 to 24, speeding was the major violation, with following too close, many times caused by speeding, second on the list.
Accidents involving drivers aged 15 to 24 tend to result from running off the road and generally do not involve more than one car, but they are more likely to cause death because of the higher speeds.
The study indicated that teenage drivers are more apt to hit pedestrians — 30% of the persons killed in accidents involving 17-year-old drivers were pedestrians, for example.
Ryan said he was surprised at the number of accidents involving teenagers and young adults which were caused by drinking or falling asleep.
Major Factor
Drinking generally was a major accident factor last year for all motorists up to 70 years of age, but Ryan said drinking by youthful drivers presented the greatest hazard.

In addition motorists aged 17 to 23 were more prone to cause accidents by falling asleep at the wheel than were older drivers, perhaps, Ryan said, because youths do more driving at night.
Other findings:
—Younger and older drivers are more apt to be at fault in accidents than are drivers aged 31 to 50.
—There is an increase in the percentage of cars with seat belts but a drop in the percentage of seat belts in use at the time of accidents.
—More than half of the accidents involving teenage drivers occurred on county roads, while the average for accidents involving drivers of all ages was only 20%.

NASON ON EDUCATION:

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON
Dear Dr. Nason:
All I think about lately is the education I could have had when I went to high school for four years. Unfortunately, this was during the war years and everything was quite hectic. Now that my four children are well along in school, I have some time on my hands and would like very much to go back to school. But I don't have the time nor patience a teen-ager has to go through seven or eight subjects. Neither do I know what courses are best to take.
I would appreciate any advice you can give me on how to further my education.
N.D., North Bergen, N.J.
Answer:
Returning to school looms

up as a major undertaking when thought of in terms of "seven or eight subjects."
Somewhere in your area, there is probably a high school or junior college offering courses for adults. Telephone for an appointment with a counselor. With his help, you can choose one subject and make it your first goal to master just this one.

Your success in a well chosen first course will help determine the course to follow. Your long-term plans will unfold in due time.
Dear Dr. Nason:
Our daughter started life in a Spanish-speaking family. Although she has always known herself to be an American and therefore feels that she knows English, she lacks just enough command of the language to be an efficient reader. To understand what she reads takes a good deal of conscious effort. At present, she seems unprepared to make such an effort.
I would be extremely grateful for any suggestions.
C. J. C., Wayne, Pa.
Answer:
For your daughter, English is a second language. Although she has the advantage of using this language daily in school and in play with other children, she must learn to think in English.
Encourage her to work toward thinking in English while reading. Have her try this simple exercise: After studying a page of reading matter in a homework assignment, she should reread the material with conscious effort to eliminate Spanish entirely from her thoughts and see in her mind the ideas presented on the page while reading the English words.
Sometimes, two or three readings of the same page will help. The exercise should be repeated at least once a day for an extended period.

Meet Star Carrier Mark Lowry

Courtesy, a sense of responsibility and knowing how to meet people are important in any business — but they are especially desirable traits for a young man who wants to enter the advertising and promotion field.
That's one of the reasons why Mark Lowry of Lincoln is happy to be a newspaper boy. He says that managing a route for The Lincoln Star has helped him to acquire these traits.
He also points to a $25 profit every four weeks as a very pleasant benefit of his job. So far, most of his earnings have been spent on clothing and entertainment. But now that he is approaching the legal age for operating a motor vehicle, Mark is planning to save up enough to buy a car as soon as possible. In this connection, his interest in mechanics should be a real help.
Mark attends Sheridan Lutheran Church and is a member of Luther League, a church youth organization.
When he isn't busy with his route or school-connected work (he is a student at Southeast High School), Mark has enough interests to keep several boys occupied.
He plays basketball, tennis and golf. Likes to swim, fish and bowl. Is interested in stock car racing and baseball. collects stamps and is a mystery fan.
His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lowry, say that managing a paper route has been an excellent experience for their son and are convinced

... BACKED BARRY IN '64

Washington (AP)—Sporting a new name, an organization that played a key role in Barry Goldwater's 1964 bid for the presidency has sent nearly $70,000 into eight Southern states to aid Republican efforts.

Reports filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives show that the Citizens Committee for Conservatives, until earlier this year known as Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, has placed upwards of $120,000 this year into 41 GOP gubernatorial and congressional races across the country.

More than half the total went into eight Southern states—Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Arkansas, North Carolina, South Carolina and Louisiana.

The committee listed $121,500 in disbursements in the period June 1-Sept. 10, but reported receiving no contributions this year.

Its assistant treasurer, James M. Day, notified the House clerk on March 14 that the name of the Citizens for Goldwater-Miller had been changed to the Citizens Committee for Conservatives.

The committee made seven $5,000 contributions to the campaigns of individual candidates, sent $5,000 to three political committees and $4,000 to another, made a dozen

$2,500 contributions to candidates, two $2,000 contributions and one $1,500 contribution and 22 of $1,000.

The group sent the most—$18,000—to Alabama. This included a $5,000 contribution to the campaign of Birmingham attorney John Grenier, former executive director of the Republican National Committee who is running for the Senate seat held by Democrat John Sparkman.

Grenier was Goldwater's Southern manager-strategist in the 1964 election. The GOP presidential ticket carried six states—five of them in the South.

Another $5,000 went to the campaign of Republican Rep. James D. Martin, who opposes Mrs. George Wallace for governor of Alabama. Georgia's GOP gubernatorial nominee, Rep. Howard H. Callaway, received $5,000 for his campaign against Democratic nominee Lester Maddox.

Tempe, Ariz., Boy Charged With Murder

Tempe, Ariz. (UPI)—David R. Mumbaugh, 18, was arraigned here Friday on a murder charge in the death of Arizona State University coed Laura Bernstein of Fair Lawn, N. J.

Mumbaugh, a 1966 graduate of Tempe High School, was arrested shortly after midnight in connection with the Sept. 21 slaying.

Police Chief E. Worth Farley said he would not elaborate on Mumbaugh's arrest because of recent court rulings. Although he first indicated he would release a statement, he said Friday no further information would be revealed by authorities.

Miss Bernstein's body was found near her bicycle in a covered walkway of a hotel where she had gone to visit a friend. She had been stabbed six times, twice in the head and four times in the body.

Trade Conference To Hear Export-Import Bank Official

An official of the U. S. Export-Import Bank will deliver the keynote address at the World Trade Conference at the Nebraska Center Thursday.

He is Albert Hamilton, who will speak at an evening banquet.

Other speakers will include William Gilbert Carter of the U. S. State Department and Albert C. Homer of the Imperial-Eastman Corp. of Chicago.

Theme for the all-day conference is "international trade in perspective."

The conference is an outgrowth of last year's Nebraska trade mission to Europe. Business and agriculture leaders from across the state will attend. Workshops will be held.

Chairman of the Nebraska World Trade Development Council is Andrew A. Andros of Lincoln.

Cooperating organizations for the conference are the Nebraska Division of Resources, the U. S. Commerce Department and the Regional Expansion Council.

Jury Convicts 2, Acquits One Of Burglary Charge

A Lancaster District Court jury Friday found two Lincoln men guilty and acquitted a third in connection with the July 10 burglary of the Northwestern Metal Co.

Henry Reichel, of 1207 Charleston, and Virgil D. Riley, of 226 No. 26th, who had entered innocent pleas to the burglary charges, were found guilty as charged.

Rex L. Fusby, of 1122 Sumner, who also had pleaded innocent, was acquitted by the jury.

According to authorities, $31.78 was taken from a soda pop machine at Northwestern and two vaults were damaged but not opened.

Sentencing of Reichel and Riley was deferred by Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele pending the filing of a motion for a new trial.

'Good Home Can Have Disadvantaged Child'

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON

Star Staff Writer

Dr. Robert J. Havighurst of the University of Chicago told junior high administrators meeting here Friday that a child from a "good home" with "concerned parents" still can be considered "disadvantaged."

Addressing the fourth Upper Midwest Regional Conference on Junior High Education, Dr. Havighurst described a "disadvantaged child" whose family "wanted to do well for their children but didn't know how."

According to the junior high expert's example, the boy was not retarded in his grade level, but was expected to be a dropout because he had no motivation at home.

Retarded Another type of disadvantaged child, Havighurst explained, is one who is both disadvantaged and retarded. In his example, it was pointed out that no parental effort was made to send the child to kindergarten and, as a result, in addition to lacking help at home, the child was slow to read and behind in all grades.

Havighurst estimated one-third of all school children fall in a disadvantaged group.

The best program for disadvantaged children, he reported, is one "substantially different from any present program."

Too often, he declared, intensive training is more of the same, which probably will not succeed.

The most effective program, according to Havighurst, is one that will meet the needs and characteristics of disadvantaged children, including a constant search for excitement and pleasure.

Live For Pleasure These children live for pleasure "because they haven't learned to live for anything in the future," he said.

Junior high teachers and principals can fulfill one need for ideal models, Havighurst told the more than 300 persons attending the conference.

In section discussions throughout the rest of the day, the conference considered interschool athletics in junior high, emerging programs of guidance and counseling, teacher personnel, accrediting and evaluating the junior high program, encouraging curriculum innovation and promoting instructional change, decision making and educating the disadvantaged and hard to teach pupil.

Dr. Galen Saylor of the University of Nebraska Teachers College spoke to the group on "Postulates for Curriculum Innovations in the Years Ahead."

Saturday the conference will consider several facets of the junior high curriculum, including foreign language, modern math, language arts-reading program, science and practical arts.

State College Need For Funds Agreed

... REQUEST MAY DOUBLE

State Normal Board members reviewed proposed budgets for the four state colleges for the 1967-69 biennium Friday and agreed on the over-all dollar needs of the institutions.

The board authorized its coordinator, Dr. Freeman Decker, to meet with officials of the colleges next week to iron out details.

Dr. Decker said the budget requests will probably be made public Tuesday or Wednesday.

Although he declined to release any figures, reports were circulating that the Normal Board was preparing to ask the 1967 Legislature to more than double the size of the colleges' budgets.

Like University of Nebraska administrators, state college presidents already have warned that increasing enrollments will require larger appropriations for both operational and building purposes.

The colleges at Kearney, Chadron, Wayne and Peru were appropriated $18,045,785 for the present biennium, with $8.7 million of the total coming from the state general fund.

The University of Nebraska recently proposed that its state tax dollar subsidy for operational purposes be increased 91% for the coming biennium, from $32 million to $67 million. Its over-all operational budget request was $98.6 million.

NONE INJURED IN FLAMING CRASH

Two railroad men and a tank truck driver escaped a flaming death in Lake Charles, La., when this diesel engine sliced a fuel tank truck in half. Flames engulfed the truck and switch engine and caused an estimated $300,000 damages. No one was injured.

City-County Building Bid Date Set

Nov. 18 is the tentative date set for opening bids for construction on the new $5 million City-County Building at 10th and J.

According to F. C. Vierk of Hemphill & Vierk, architects for the county, the date has been cleared with the Association of General Contractors so there are no other major construction projects up for bidding at that time.

The City-County Building Committee approved final plans this week and the plans will probably be submitted to bidders within the next two weeks.

Marriage Law Change?

Members of the Nebraska Committee for Children and Youth legislative study committee on marriage and divorce laws reported here Friday that formal legislative proposals will be presented to the NCCY steering group Oct. 26.

The legislative study committee, which started its examination of marriage and divorce laws before the 1965 Legislature, has held hearings in Lincoln and Omaha on legislative recommendations.

Another proposal yet to be considered, according to the Rev. George Edgar of Lincoln, is appointment of an attorney to represent the interests of children involved in divorce actions.

Viet Retribution Payments Unprecedented In Hot War

Washington (AP) — The American retribution payments now going to South Vietnamese civilians killed or wounded by misdirected U.S. attacks are probably unprecedented in a hot war, officials said Friday.

But unofficially, they added, it's an old custom.

The payments which amount to about $34 per death, are officially known as solatiums and described by the Defense Department as "a monetary gift presented as an expression of regret for an incident that has resulted in death, injury or loss of property." As such, they reflect a long-standing Asian custom of making cash payments to families of deceased persons.

A check with military historians and defense officials indicated that the United States has never made solatiums or other such sympathy payments before in wartime.

"Normally if the damage or personal injury is combat damage," one officer noted "we don't pay."

"But this situation out there is so damn peculiar," he added.

The official Defense Department position is that the United States always conforms to local customs, but in the active heat of battle such a thing is rarely possible.

Another source explained the need for the payments in South Viet Nam this way:

"This isn't like World War II or Korea. We're living in their villages, cooperating with the businesses, helping with their farms. We're part of their community."

Defense Department statistics indicated 11 misdirected U.S. attacks in South Viet Nam since July 1 have caused the deaths of at least 166 Vietnamese civilians and injuries to 252 others.

Head Start Deadline Nov. 30

State Technical Assistance Director Ron Jensen reported Friday applications for 1967 summer Head Start programs will have to be filed with federal officials by Nov. 30.

In past years, the applications were not due until April, about three months before projects were to begin.

Jensen said he hoped the earlier deadline will eliminate "much of the guesswork and last-minute rush which has plagued program sponsors in past summers."

The Head Start program, part of the federal government's war on poverty, is designed to provide pre-school training to children from low-income families.

Last summer Head Start classes, partially financed by some $125,000 in federal funds, were conducted in 13 Nebraska communities.

Jensen said he believes the federal allotment to Nebraska for next summer will be large enough to satisfy all requests.

'Curtis Would Raise State, Local Taxes'

Democratic National Committeewoman Maurine Biebert said Friday Nebraskans would be paying twice as much in state and local taxes if Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., had his way.

Curtis whose Senate seat Democratic Gov. Frank B. Morrison seeks, has voted against several federal programs which have reduced the taxation burden, Mrs. Biebert said.

"This extra burden would have amounted to something more than $369 million just in the past few years," the Schickley farm wife said.

She said Curtis has voted against education, federal housing, parks, airport and public works programs "almost without exception."

"He calls them federal spending programs," she said. "I call them programs that have helped Nebraska get its farmers out of mud, make its cities better places to live in, get its children properly educated, take care of the ill and shelter its aged and impoverished."

Judge Scheele Orders Release For Pen Inmate

Nebraska Penitentiary inmate William R. Hardy has been ordered released from the penal institution on a petition for writ of habeas corpus granted by Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele.

Scheele ruled that the inmate has completed two consecutive one-year sentences from Lancaster District Court in 1963 and that the one to five-year sentence he was serving from Nemaha County was voided by Nemaha District Court in August.

According to Scheele, since the one sentence was voided, Hardy began serving his two one-year sentences from Lancaster District Court when they were imposed, and are completed.

Churchill Honored

London (AP) — Deputy U.S. Ambassador Philip Kaiser and members of the Churchill family will attend the unveiling of a memorial window to Sir Winston Churchill at Dorchester Abbey, Oxfordshire, Oct. 16. Funds for the window were raised largely in the United States through the American Friends of Dorchester Abbey Association.

Conservative Unit Aids GOP In South

... BACKED BARRY IN '64

Washington (AP) —Sporting a new name, an organization that played a key role in Barry Goldwater's 1964 bid for the presidency has sent nearly $70,000 into eight Southern states to aid Republican efforts.

Reports filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives show that the Citizens Committee for Conservatives, until earlier this year known as Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, has placed upwards of $120,000 this year into 41 GOP gubernatorial and congressional races across the country.

More than half the total went into eight Southern states — Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Arkansas, North Carolina, South Carolina and Louisiana.

The committee listed $121,500 in disbursements in the period June 1-Sept. 10, but reported receiving no contributions this year.

Its assistant treasurer, James M. Day, notified the House clerk on March 14 that the name of the Citizens for Goldwater-Miller had been changed to the Citizens Committee for Conservatives.

The committee made seven $5,000 contributions to the campaigns of individual candidates, sent $5,000 to three political committees and $4,000 to another, made a dozen

$2,500 contributions to candidates, two $2,000 contributions one $1,500 contribution and 22 of $1,000.

The group sent the most—$18,000—to Alabama. This included a $5,000 contribution to the campaign of Birmingham attorney John Grenier, former executive director of the Republican National Committee who is running for the Senate seat held by Democrat John Sparkman.

Grenier was Goldwater's Southern manager-strategist in the 1964 election. The GOP presidential ticket carried six states—five of them in the South.

Another $5,000 went to the campaign of Republican Rep. James D. Martin, who opposes Mrs. George Wallace for governor of Alabama. Georgia's GOP gubernatorial nominee, Rep. Howard H. Callaway, received $5,000 for his campaign against Democratic nominee Lester Maddox.

Tempe, Ariz., Boy Charged With Murder

Tempe, Ariz. (UPI)—David R. Mumbaugh, 18, was arraigned here Friday on a murder charge in the death of Arizona State University coed Laura Bernstein of Fair Lawn, N. J.

Mumbaugh, a 1966 graduate of Tempe High School, was arrested shortly after midnight in connection with the Sept. 21 slaying.

Police Chief E. Worth Farley said he would not elaborate on Mumbaugh's arrest because of recent court rulings. Although he first indicated he would release a statement, he said Friday no further information would be revealed by authorities.

Miss Bernstein's body was found near her bicycle in a covered walkway of a hotel where she had gone to visit a friend. She had been stabbed six times, twice in the head and four times in the body.

PET IS ALSO HERO

Duchess, the family pet, licks two-year-old Robert F. Fuson II as the boy's father, Dr. Robert L. Fuson of Durham, N.C., looks on. Some 400 persons engaged in an all-night search for the missing boy before Duchess found him Friday morning.

'Good Home Can Have Disadvantaged Child'

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Dr. Robert J. Havighurst of the University of Chicago told junior high administrators meeting here Friday that a child from a "good home" with "concerned parents" still can be considered "disadvantaged."

Addressing the fourth Upper Midwest Regional Conference on Junior High Education, Dr. Havighurst described a "disadvantaged child" whose family "wanted to do well for their children but didn't know how."

According to the junior high expert's, example, the boy was not retarded in his grade level, but was expected to be a dropout because he had no motivation at home.

Retarded
Another type of disadvantaged child, Havighurst explained, is one who is both disadvantaged and retarded. In his example, it was pointed out that no parental effort was made to send the child to kindergarten and, as a result, in addition to lacking help at home, the child was slow to read and behind in all grades.

Havighurst estimated one-third of all school children fall in a disadvantaged group. The best program for disadvantaged children, he reported, is one "substantially different from any present program."

Too often, he declared, intensive training is more of the same, which probably will not succeed. The most effective program, according to Havighurst, is one that will meet the needs and characteristics of disadvantaged children, including a constant search for excitement and pleasure.

Live For Pleasure
These children live for pleasure "because they haven't learned to live for anything in the future," he said. Junior high teachers and principals can fulfill one need for ideal models, Havighurst told the more than 300 persons attending the conference.

In section discussions throughout the rest of the day, the conferees considered interschool athletics in junior high, emerging programs of guidance and counseling, teacher personnel, accrediting and evaluating the junior high program, encouraging curriculum innovation and promoting instructional change, decision making and educating the disadvantaged and hard to teach pupil.

Dr. Galen Saylor of the University of Nebraska Teachers College spoke to the group on "Postulates for Curriculum Innovations in the Years Ahead."

Saturday the conference will consider several facets of the junior high curriculum, including foreign language, modern math, language arts-reading program, science and practical arts.

Retailers Elect M. J. Graham New President

The Nebraska Federation of Retail Associations elected M. J. (Bub) Graham of Lincoln as president for the coming year Friday.

Graham, executive secretary of the Retail Merchants of Nebraska and vice president of the Western States Retail Council, succeeds Ken Monroe, formerly of Lincoln, now with the Colorado Oil and Gas Association.

The election took place at the organization's regularly monthly meeting in Lincoln. The federation is made up of representatives of various retail groups and organizations in Nebraska.

Glenn McEniry of Lincoln, executive secretary of the Nebraska Association of Commerce and Industry, was named vice president.

Charles Sconyers OK After Coronary Attack

Charles E. Sconyers, director of development at Nebraska Wesleyan University, was reported recovering satisfactorily Friday after suffering a coronary attack last week.

Family members said he will be hospitalized at Bryan Memorial Hospital for about two weeks.

BRIDES chose candlelight weddings

At a candlelight ceremony solemnized Friday evening, Sept. 30, Miss Nancy Jean Krause, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Krause, became the bride of David Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Grant. Bouquets of white gladioli and carnations formed the altar decor in the Fourth Presbyterian Church for the 7:30 o'clock service, the lines of which were read by the Rev. Curtis Barnett, and Mrs. Maurice McAvoy, organist, played the wedding music.

Wearing Empire frocks of lavender silk crepe and carrying arrangements of white chrysanthemums were Mrs. Lloyd Krause, the matron of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Carolyn Mick.

Serving as best man was Dennis Adamick, and seating the guests were Lloyd Krause and Duane Luty.

The bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace for her wedding. The long-sleeved basque was designed with a scalloped neckline, highlighted with pearl embroidery, and the full, redingote skirt, which touched the floor at the back, revealed an underskirt of lace-edged tulle tiers. Her illusion veil was held by a pillbox cap of jeweled lace, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with a single lavender orchid.

The couple will live in Lincoln, at 4302 Baldwin.

The chancel of St. James Methodist Church at Bellevue was decorated with lighted candles and bouquets of white and blue-tinted blossoms for the wedding of Miss Karen Elaine Hoppe, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold O. Hoppe of Annandale, Va., and David Mason Crook of Lincoln, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Eugene M. Crook of Paris, France, all former residents of Bellevue. The service was solemnized Friday, Sept. 30, by the Rev. Clarence McConkey.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. Vernon Murphy of Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada, who wore a long-skirted frock of silk crepe in the moss green shade. She carried blue-tinted Fuji chrysanthemums.

Bruce Smith of Bellevue served as best man, and the groomsmen were Grayson Hoppe of Annandale, Va., and J. Tucker Lillis, Lincoln.

The bride's princess gown was fashioned of white silk crepe. The sleeveless bodice was covered by a long-sleeved jacket of re-embroidered white lace, and the slender skirt was complemented by a panel train of the lace extending to chapel length.

Mr. and Mrs. Crook, both former students at the University of Nebraska, will make their home in Lincoln.

Courtesies

Miss Vickie Pettit, whose marriage to Ronald Eugene Olson will be an event of Sunday, Oct. 9, will share honors with her fiancé at a pre-nuptial dinner Saturday evening, Oct. 8, when Mr. Olson's mother, Mrs. Elmer F. Olson, will entertain members of the bridal party and family.

The dinner, which will follow the wedding rehearsal at Faith Lutheran Church, will be held at Colonial Inn.

The bride-elect also was honored recently at a shower for which Mrs. Wilmer Farley of Elk Horn, Iowa, Mrs. Fritz Tiarks and Mrs. Clifford Johnson of Council Bluffs, were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Tiarks. The guests included feminine members of the bride-elect's family.

Announcing plans for an October wedding is Miss Judith Lynn Isaacs who has chosen Thursday, Oct. 13, as the date for her marriage to Fred Merriman, Jr.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to the future bride, Mrs. Don Isaacs, Mrs. Don Dixon and Mrs. Leland Isaacs were hostesses Sunday afternoon, Sept. 18, at a miscellaneous shower held in the parlors of Christ Church at Unadilla.

The wedding of Miss Isaacs and Mr. Merriman will take place at a 7 o'clock evening service at Christ Church.

The bidding:
East Pass South 1♦ West Pass North Pass
1♦ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead—two of clubs.

Here is an unusually sad hand from a team of four match. At the first table, nothing startling happened when East became declarer at one spade and made three on normal play. He scored 140 points, counting the 50 points extra awarded in duplicate bridge for bidding and making a part score.

But at the second table, where East's teammates held the North-South cards, they also wound up playing the hand at spades! The bidding went:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1♦	Double
Redouble	1♦	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's spade bid may seem very peculiar, but he and his partner were playing a method whereby a pass over one diamond redoubled would have signified a desire to play the hand at that contract. South therefore bid a spade, in desperation.

After East doubled, South might well have had second thoughts about the expediency of playing the hand with a three-card suit as trumps, but he stood his ground and passed.

This turned out to be an extremely unfortunate decision when West made the best lead of a trump against one spade doubled. Declarer went up with the king and returned with a low heart to the nine, the finesse losing to the ten.

West led another trump and South was now out of business. He did as well as he could when he went up with the ace and played another heart, losing the queen to the ace.

West led the ace and another diamond, taken by the king, and east, after cashing the queen of spades, put West on lead with a club.

West returned a heart, thus trapping the jack, and the outcome was that the only tricks South ever scored on the hand were the A-K of spades. The adventure cost North-South 1,400 points.

Honored At Junior Club Tea

Newly-elected members of the Junior Woman's Club of Lincoln were honored Wednesday at a tea for which the club officers were hostesses at Hillcrest Country Club.

Special guests were Mrs. Robert Rake of Omaha, state director of junior clubs, and Mrs. Fred Naber, Syracuse, district director.

The new members are Mrs. Arnold Bartlett, Mrs. Dale Hermsmeider, Mrs. Jack Elrick, Mrs. Paul Wendell, Mrs. Charles Casper, Mrs. Judd Gillespie, Mrs. Don Hansen, Mrs. Donald Falos, Mrs. Albert Boren.

NEWS

of suburban areas

What else can we say on a fall Saturday morning except that football is in the news! In addition to the numerous birthdays, visitors and vacations, many Lincoln residents are following the Cornhuskers eastward this weekend in hopes of a third victory.

EASTRIDGE

Leaving for Ames, Iowa and the Cornhusker's third football challenge will be Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Yeutter and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burmeister. The Lincoln foursome will be the game guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Williams of Villisca, Iowa, who, according to Mrs. Yeutter, are avid, but friendly Cyclone fans.

Mr. and Mrs. Burmeister and Mr. and Mrs. Yeutter will return to Nebraska on Saturday evening but plan to stop in Omaha for dinner, dancing and an overnight stay.

Other Eastridge residents departing for Iowa this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Evans. The Evans family isn't following the team, but they will be visiting in Carroll, Iowa, as the houseguests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evans. Young Mike Evans will be on hand to greet his grandparents.

Residents near the home at 936 Muider Dr. will have to look quickly to get a glimpse of their new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Burt. Mr. and Mrs. Burt, who are settling down in their new home this week have some traveling plans for next week. One Thursday, Oct. 6, the couple will leave for Beloit, Wis., to be the houseguests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burt and their family. Naturally, being so close to Madison and the University of Wisconsin Mr. and Mrs. Burt will attend the Cornhusker-Badger football game on Saturday, Oct. 8.

After a few days in Wisconsin the Burts plan to leave for New York City and Washington, D.C. In the latter city they will be the houseguests of another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burt.

EASTBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn were two other suburban residents to entertain visitors recently. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Saunders of Ogallala who arrived in Lincoln Tuesday afternoon after a short shopping trip to Omaha.

More visitors—and more visitors are arriving in suburbia, and current guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hartig are Mr. Hartig's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gayland Miller, and their son Mike of Aurora.

coed is bride-elect

Of particular interest to town and campus circles this morning is the announcement made by Lt. Col. Charles K. Baker, Jr., USAF, Ret., and Mrs. Baker of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy, to David Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Koch.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, Dec. 17.

Miss Baker is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority of which she has served as president.

Mr. Koch now is attending the University of Nebraska.

of the town

We'd be most happy to tell you about all of the activity which is taking place during the current weekend — But since we can't tell you that there was a party last evening, another one this evening, and a late afternoon wedding in Minneapolis today, we'll have to move on to another weekend—

The Friday-to-Monday period we have in mind is for that of Oct. 14—to Oct. 16. That, among other things, includes the Nebraska-K-State game, so one might just take it for granted that there will be festive days and nights—

But—there are some added attractions in the way of guests—We have just learned for instance, that Judge and Mrs. Lloyd Nix of Los Angeles, will be arriving on Friday, Oct. 14, for the game weekend.

We can't say whether or not Judge and Mrs. Nix planned the trip to Lincoln to coincide with the football game, but we do know that they are stopping off en route home from the east.

During their brief stay in town Judge and Mrs. Nix will be complimented with informal courtesies, and they are making Hotel Cornhusker their headquarters.

And arriving from Ft. Myers, Fla., at practically the same time as Judge and Mrs. Nix, will be Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Howe who will visit Mrs. Howe's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clemens.

We hear that since Judge and Mrs. Nix, Mr. and Mrs. Howe and Mr. and Mrs. Clemens are old and close friends, the sixsome will be together for dinner on Friday evening.

of suburban areas

What else can we say on a fall Saturday morning except that football is in the news! In addition to the numerous birthdays, visitors and vacations, many Lincoln residents are following the Cornhuskers eastward this weekend in hopes of a third victory.

EASTRIDGE

Leaving for Ames, Iowa and the Cornhusker's third football challenge will be Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Yeutter and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burmeister. The Lincoln foursome will be the game guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Williams of Villisca, Iowa, who, according to Mrs. Yeutter, are avid, but friendly Cyclone fans.

Mr. and Mrs. Burmeister and Mr. and Mrs. Yeutter will return to Nebraska on Saturday evening but plan to stop in Omaha for dinner, dancing and an overnight stay.

Other Eastridge residents departing for Iowa this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Evans. The Evans family isn't following the team, but they will be visiting in Carroll, Iowa, as the houseguests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evans. Young Mike Evans will be on hand to greet his grandparents.

Residents near the home at 936 Muider Dr. will have to look quickly to get a glimpse of their new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Burt. Mr. and Mrs. Burt, who are settling down in their new home this week have some travelling plans for next week. One Thursday, Oct. 6, the couple will leave for Beloit, Wis., to be the houseguests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burt and their family. Naturally, being so close to Madison and the University of Wisconsin Mr. and Mrs. Burt will attend the Cornhusker-Badger football game on Saturday, Oct. 8.

After a few days in Wisconsin the Burt family plan to leave for New York City and Washington, D.C. In the latter city they will be the houseguests of another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burt.

EASTBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn were two other suburban residents to entertain visitors recently. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Saunders of Ogallala who arrived in Lincoln Tuesday afternoon after a short shopping trip to Omaha.

More visitors—and more visitors are arriving in suburbia, and current guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hartig are Mr. Hartig's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gayland Miller, and their son Mike of Aurora.

coed is bride-elect

Of particular interest to town and campus circles this morning is the announcement made by Lt. Col. Charles K. Baker, Jr., USAF, Ret., and Mrs. Baker of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy, to David Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Koch.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, Dec. 17.

Miss Baker is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority of which she has served as president.

Mr. Koch now is attending the University of Nebraska.

At a candlelight ceremony solemnized Friday evening, Sept. 30, Miss Nancy Jean Krause, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Krause, became the bride of David Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Grant. Bouquets of white gladioli and carnations formed the altar decor in the Fourth Presbyterian Church for the 7:30 o'clock service, the lines of which were read by the Rev. Curtis Barnett, and Mrs. Maurice McAvoy, organist, played the wedding music.

Wearing Empire frocks of lavender silk crepe and carrying arrangements of white chrysanthemums were Mrs. Lloyd Krause, the matron of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Carolyn Mick.

Serving as best man was Dennis Adamek, and seating the guests were Lloyd Krause and Duane Lutji.

The bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace for her wedding. The long-sleeved basque was designed with a scalloped neckline, highlighted with pearl embroidery, and the full, redingote skirt, which touched the floor at the back, revealed an underskirt of lace-edged tulle tiers. Her illusion veil was held by a pillbox cap of jeweled lace, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with a single lavender orchid.

The couple will live in Lincoln, at 4302 Baldwin.

The chancel of St. James Methodist Church at Bellevue was decorated with lighted candles and bouquets of white and blue-tinted blossoms for the wedding of Miss Karen Elaine Hoppe, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold O. Hoppe of Annandale, Va., and David Mason Crook of Lincoln, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Eugene M. Crook of Paris, France, all former residents of Bellevue. The service was solemnized Friday, Sept. 30, by the Rev. Clarence McConkey.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. Vernon Murphy of Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada, who wore a long-skirted frock of silk crepe in the moss green shade. She carried blue-tinted Fuji chrysanthemums.

Bruce Smith of Bellevue served as best man, and the groomsmen were Grayson Hoppe of Annandale, Va., and J. Tucker Lillis, Lincoln.

The bride's princess gown was fashioned of white silk crepe. The sleeveless bodice was covered by a long-sleeved jacket of re-embroidered white lace, and the slender skirt was complemented by a panel train of the lace extending to chapel length.

Mr. and Mrs. Crook, both former students at the University of Nebraska, will make their home in Lincoln.

Honored At Junior Club Tea

Newly-elected members of the Junior Woman's Club of Lincoln were honored Wednesday at a tea for which the club officers were hostesses at Hillcrest Country Club.

Special guests were Mrs. Robert Rake of Omaha, state director of junior clubs, and Mrs. Fred Naber, Syracuse, district director.

The new members are Mrs. Arnold Bartlett, Mrs. Dale Hermesmyer, Mrs. Jack Elrick, Mrs. Paul Wendell, Mrs. Charles Casper, Mrs. Judd Gillespie, Mrs. Don Hansen, Mrs. Donald Falos, Mrs. Albert Boren, Mrs. Richard Pocras, Mrs. Richard Williams, Mrs. Dean Tebo, Mrs. Terrence Cullen, Mrs. Lee Almquist, Mrs. Robert Schupp, Mrs. Kenneth Maser, Mrs. James Owen and Mrs. Donald Harrington.

Miss Vickie Pettit, whose marriage to Ronald Eugene Olson will be an event of Sunday, Oct. 9, will share honors with her fiancé at a pre-nuptial dinner Saturday evening, Oct. 8, when Mr. Olson's mother, Mrs. Elmer F. Olson, will entertain members of the bridal party and family.

The dinner, which will follow the wedding rehearsal at Faith Lutheran Church, will be held at Colonial Inn.

The bride-elect also was honored recently at a shower for which Mrs. Wilmer Farley of Elk Horn, Iowa, Mrs. Fritz Tiarks and Mrs. Clifford Johnson of Council Bluffs, were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Tiarks. The guests included feminine members of the bride-elect's family.

Announcing plans for an October wedding is Miss Judi Lynn Isaacs who has chosen Thursday, Oct. 13, as the date for her marriage to Fred Merriman, Jr.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to the future bride, Mrs. Don Isaacs, Mrs. Don Dixon and Mrs. Leland Isaacs were hostesses Sunday afternoon, Sept. 18, at a miscellaneous shower held in the parlors of Christ Church at Unadilla.

The wedding of Miss Isaacs and Mr. Merriman will take place at a 7 o'clock evening service at Christ Church.

The bidding:
1♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead—two of clubs. Here is an unusually sad hand from a team of four match. At the first table, nothing startling happened when East became declarer at one spade and made three on normal play. He scored 140 points, counting the 50 points extra awarded in duplicate bridge for bidding and making a part score.

But at the second table, where East's teammates held the North-South cards, they also wound up playing the hand at spades! The bidding went:

East South West North
Pass Pass 1♦ Dble
Redble 1♠ Pass Pass
Dble Pass Pass Pass

South's spade bid may seem very peculiar, but he and his partner were playing a method whereby a pass over one diamond redoubled would have signified a desire to play the hand at that contract. South therefore bid a spade, in desperation.

After East doubled, South might well have had second thoughts about the expediency of playing the hand with a three-card suit as trumps, but he stood his ground and passed.

This turned out to be an extremely unfortunate decision when West made the best lead of a trump against one spade doubled. Declarer went up with the king and returned with a low heart to the nine, the finesse losing to the ten.

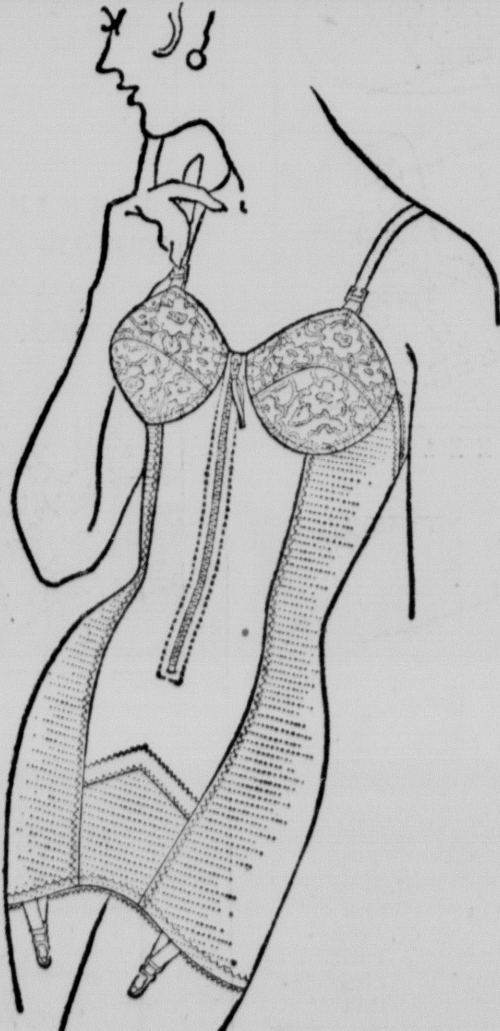

West led another trump and South was now out of business. He did as well as he could when he went up with the ace and played another heart, losing the queen to the ace.

West led the ace and another diamond, taken by the king, and east, after cashing the queen of spades, put West on lead with a club.

West returned a heart, thus trapping the jack, and the outcome was that the only tricks South ever scored on the hand were the A-K of spades. The adventure cost North-South 1,400 points.

Coaches' Talk May Baffle Husker-ISU Fans

By IAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor
Ames, Iowa — If the 30,000 fans who are expected to jam Clyde Williams Field here this afternoon to see Nebraska and Iowa State meet have been reading statements from the rival camps, chances are, at best, that they won't have any idea of what to expect.

NU coach Bob Devaney has said his Cornhuskers must come up with a better pass rush than they've staged in the first two games if they are to stop Cyclone passer Tim Van Galder.

Cyclone coach Clay Staple-

ton says he expects Nebraska's hefty defensive front wall to put a lot of pressure on Van Galder.

"There's not much we can do unless we hit our receivers fast in this case," he explains.

Devaney has indicated he expects Iowa State to try to move a little more on the ground than they have in their two losses — to Wisconsin and Oklahoma.

Stapleton doesn't expect any team to move on the ground against the monstrous Huskers and indicates his Cyclones may not even try.

"If they stop our passing game, it could be a long afternoon," he says.

And what does the Iowa State coach expect Nebraska to do offensively?

"I think Nebraska is strong enough to do what they want — either pass or run," he replies.

The Huskers' rushing offense, however, which was tops in the nation last year, has been a disappointment to its fans in the 14-10 decision over Texas Christian and 28-7 win over Utah State.

Nebraska ranks first in the Big Eight in passing offense, averaging 135 yards through the air, mostly on the arm of quarterback Bob Churchich. However, the Huskers have been able to add only another 137 yards per game on the ground to rank fifth in that department in the league.

Iowa State is last in rushing offense with 104 yards per game and third in passing at 126 yards per outing.

In an effort to bolster his rushing offense, Devaney abandoned his no-scrimmage philosophy this week to send his top units through a rugged mid-week scrimmage.

The major problem with the Husker running offense, according to NU coaches is the stunting being done by opposing defenses which the Huskers' young offensive linemen have been unable to solve.

But Nebraska fans are hopeful that the bevy of top running backs such as Harry Wilson, Ron Kirkland, Charlie Winters, Pete Tatman and Dick Davis will break loose soon and it could be here.

A year ago, the Huskers demolished the Cyclones in Lincoln by a 44-0 count.

Iowa State, whose players last winter agreed that they were going to a bowl game this year, relies mainly on a Van Galder to Epple Barney passing threat, but the Huskers have no plans to double-cover the Big Eight's leading receiver.

NU defensive plans call for a zone defense against the Iowa State passing and who ever happens to be in the zone Barney wanders into will cover the top pass catcher.

The Cyclones have a top running threat in Les Webster of Omaha, but so far, they haven't been able to get him loose through the line.

Kickoff for today's game is 1:30 here, which will be 12:30 in Lincoln.

ERNIE SIGLER . . . Makes traveling squad.

LOS ANGELES FAILS AGAIN

Fremont Outclasses SE, 27-19

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer

Fremont's Tigers emerged a 27-19 winner over Southeast in a rugged but ragged exhibition of high school football at Seacrest Field Friday night.

Both teams had an abundance of opportunities to score as fumbles, interceptions and blocked punts played an important part in the game.

Southeast was the first to score when the Knights Pat Mooberry recovered a muffed punt return in the Fremont end zone with three minutes left in the first quarter.

The Knights had punted from the Fremont 41 to the 10 where the ball was handled by the Tigers but bounced loose into the end zone. That made it 6-0, Southeast, after the PAT failed.

Fremont moved into the lead midway in the second quarter, however, when Gage Hagen, a swift senior halfback, burst through the center of the Southeast line, wriggled free, and scampered 37 yards to score on the second play from scrimmage after the Tigers had taken a Southeast punt.

Jeff Shada's conversion made it 7-6, Fremont. However, some heroics by the Knights Jon Roberts put the Lincolntes back on top before intermission.

Roberts, a senior fullback, intercepted a Steve Chandler pass at the Southeast 36 and returned up to the 42. Then on the first play from scrimmage, Roberts took a pass from Knight quarterback Craig Lutz at the Fremont 35. Wide open when he took the pass, Roberts rambled, untouched, into the end zone.

Randy Wagner blocked the extra point attempt but the Knights had a 12-7 lead.

Fremont struck first in the second half, using a blocked punt to set up the go-ahead touchdown.

The Knights had the ball just two plays after the kickoff before relinquishing possession via a fumble, recovered by Fremont's Paul Gifford at the Southeast 16.

The Knights nearly held, but on fourth and one, sophomore fullback Jon Strong lured his way across to make it 20-12, Fremont, following another Shada conversion.

The Knights took the kickoff but again could not maintain possession. After just two plays from scrimmage, Fremont's Seth Paulson punted a pass by halfback Bill Leinberger, and returned from the 40 to the three.

Gifford plunged in for the final Fremont TD, and Shada converted to make it 27-12 with 11:53 left in the game.

Final Score: Fremont 27, Southeast 19.
Stats: Fremont 10 first downs, 100 passing yards, 222 total yards, 2 touchdowns, 1 interception, 2 punts, 1 fumble, 1 punt blocked, 1 fumble recovered.
Stats: Southeast 7 first downs, 100 passing yards, 150 total yards, 1 touchdown, 1 interception, 2 punts, 1 fumble, 1 punt blocked, 1 fumble recovered.

Chadwell Rallies, Wins State Senior Golf Meet

... EDGES PRINTZ BY STROKE

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

Gene Chadwell of Lincoln came from five strokes back at the start of the day and edged previous leader Ed Printz of Omaha by a single stroke to win the Nebraska Men's Senior Golf Tournament at Hillcrest Country Club Friday afternoon.

Chadwell fired the best round of the raw, wind-swept day with a seven-over 79, catching Printz on the 10th hole and taking the lead for good on the 11th to finish with a 54-hole total of 234, or 18 strokes over par.

Chadwell drew even at the start of the back nine and went ahead by 1 on the 11th with a par. The lead was upped to two strokes on the 14th, down to one again on the 17th and then stayed that way as both contenders hit par at the end.

The 55-year-old Chadwell, who like Printz was eligible for the senior division for the first time this year, had to share day's honors with Jack McCuiston, a fellow Lincolnite, who missed the meet title only because it was for links-men 55 and older.

McCuiston had the second best round of the day, an 80, including a two-over 38 going out, to win the Junior-Senior title for golfers 50-54 years of age. McCuiston concluded with a 232 total, lowest of any of the 78 golfers in the four divisions and won his bracket by four strokes. His 38 was the best nine-hole score of the day, also.

McCuiston survived a double bogey on No. 2 and a triple bogey the next hole but steadied to close with 12 pars and only three bogeys the remaining 15 holes. He parred each of the last seven holes.

Chadwell and Printz were in Class C (ages 55 to 59).

Other winners were Carl Poling of Beatrice in Class B

No. 2, which is par 4 and 443 yards.

"The key shot for me was that birdie putt on No. 5," Chadwell said just after the meet. "I had no double bogeys and that's what you want to keep away from. I didn't have anything outstanding, but here and there hit a good shot, like on No. 8 when I made the green and just missed a birdie putt."

"On No. 17 I hit over the green and into the trees but still had a little opening. I got on the green with a 6-iron and two-putted for a five (bogey). I had had a cold and so had Ed, but my pep was coming back and I really felt like playing today. Ed really plays much better than he did today."

Chadwell has been on the links 40 years now and has a string of statewide tourney championships to his credit. He is a native of Omaha and moved to Lincoln 20 years ago last month. For the past 29 years he has been a sales supervisor at a local business firm.

Printz suffered bursitis trouble during the day and was clutching at his right shoulder as he figured out his scorecard. "I blew it all day on every hole," he sighed. "I had one or two bad shots every hole and came closer to missing the ball completely than I have in 40 years, like on 2 and 16 and on a couple of fairways."

Hillcrest pro Bunny Richards said the 15 mile-an-hour wind "was a true norther and made the second, third and fourth holes extremely difficult because they are long and into the wind." The temperature was in the 50's.

Four golfers had nine-hole 39s, Walt Smola of Omaha on the back and Chadwell, Dean Christofferson of Norfolk and Bill Glenn of Falls City the front side. Par on each nine is 36.

Eagles were so scarce that one participant remarked, "I saw a buzzard out there to-day anything resembling an eagle."

Ashland 12, Wahoo Neumann 0

Ashland scored in the first and third quarters, but failed to make conversions as it topped Wahoo Neumann, 12-0.

The Ashland scores were made by Jerry Fudge and Bill Kucera.

Handicapped

Righthander Ned Garver won 20 games for the last place St. Louis Browns in 1951.

DISGUSTED—Carl Gustafson, 74, of Cozad shows disgust after missing a putt.

Phils Thwart Dodgers' Bid

... TO CINCH TIE FOR FLAG

By Associated Press

The Philadelphia Phillies whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3 Friday night, thwarting the Dodgers' hopes of clinching at least a tie for the National League pennant.

The defeat cut the Dodgers' lead over second place Pittsburgh to 1½ games and to only one game in the important loss column with the end of the regular season Sunday.

Rain forced postponement of the San Francisco-Pittsburgh game, setting up a Saturday afternoon game double-header.

The Dodgers, with two games left, have won 94 games and lost 66. Pittsburgh, with three left, is 92-67. Third place San Francisco, which at best can only gain a tie, is 90-63 with four left, including a Monday game at Cincinnati, if necessary.

Bill White's three-run homer in the seventh won the game for the Phillies. That gave the Phils a 5-1 lead and they weathered a two-run rally by the Dodgers in the ninth. The Dodgers had the tying runs on second and third when Lou Johnson popped to Tony Taylor to end the game.

Ron Hunt's pinch single over second. Dierker had retired 24 straight Met batters before Bressoud led off the ninth with a drive to left that Lee Maye just missed catching.

St. Louis shut out the Chicago Cubs 2-0 on Dick Hughes' three-hitter and Ed Spiezio's two-run homer. The other NL game, Atlanta at Cincinnati, was rained out.

Minnesota swept a double-header from the champion Baltimore Orioles in the American League 10-7 and 8-2.

'Rookie' Golfer Setting Sights On Second Title

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Freddie Haas is making a good run at winning two titles in his first season as a senior golfer.

Haas, 50-year-old pro from Metairie, La., burned up the 7,069-yard Paradise Valley course with a 67 Thursday to take a first-round lead in the $70,000 U.S. Seniors National Open.

Already Haas has won the World Seniors title this year in Scotland. A past winner of the Portland, Miami and Long Beach opens, Haas is the only man ever to represent the U.S. on both Walker and Ryder Cup golf teams.

Chandler Harper, defending champion, posted a double bogey six on the first hole when he hit into the rough and was unable to reach the green with his second shot. He finished with a 75.

Drivers Warm Up For U.S. Grand Prix On Sunday

Watkins Glen, N.Y. —(AP) With their sights set on a $20,000 first prize, 20 of the world's best auto-drivers begin their practice runs today for Sunday's U.S. Grand Prix.

The field is paced by Jack Brabham of Australia, who has sewed up the 1966 world championship with four victories and a fourth-place finish in the European Grand Prix races.

Brabham, who pilots a Repco - powered Brabham was expected to find his stiffest competitor in England's Graham Hill, who will drive a BRM in his quest for his fourth straight victory at the Glen.

A purse of $102,400 will be divided among the entrants for the race of the 200-mile-an-hour Formula I machines over the hilly, tear-shaped Watkins Glen track.

Williamson Fires 77 In Seniors Tourney

Las Vegas, Nev. — Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson was 10 strokes off the pace after the first round of the U.S. Seniors National Golf Open here Thursday.

Williamson had a 77 on the first 18 holes. Freddie Haas of Metairie, La., shot a five-under-par 67 to take the opening round lead.

Cheaters Arrested

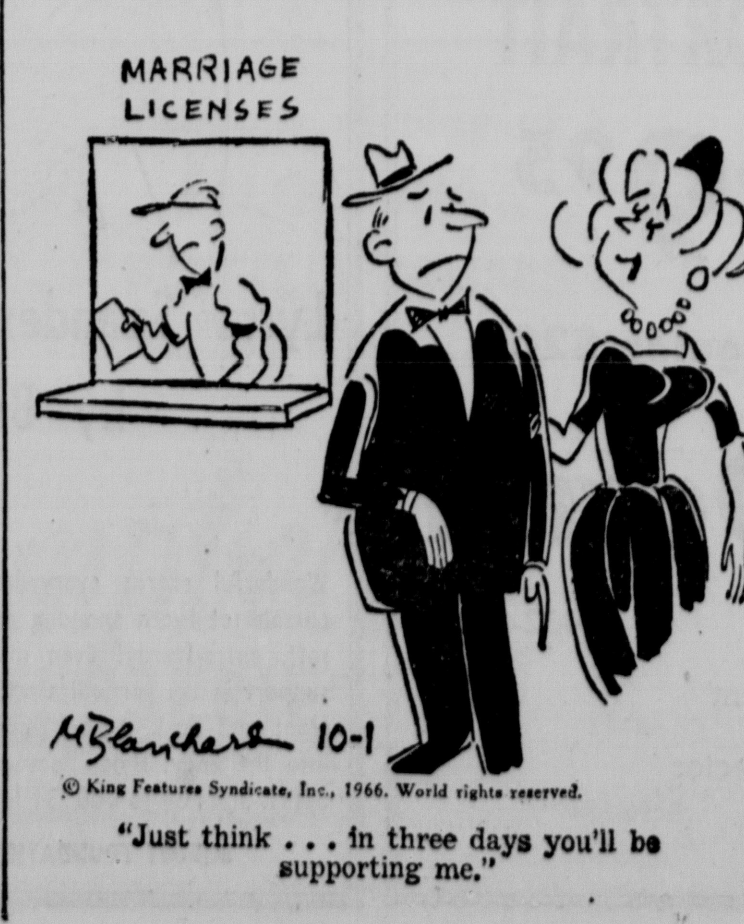

Tokyo (AP)—Police arrested four men Friday on charges of damaging eight of 10 motorboats entered in a race and then winning $1,965 in bets placed on the remaining two boats. Police said the men bent the propellers with pliers to cut down their speed.

"I'm trying to remember—did you major in geology or drama?"

"Daddy, just 'pose you had a dream about a birthday party—who would you invite in your dream?"

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:
It was on Newfoundland that Norwegian explorer Helge Ingstad discovered the ruins of a thousand-year-old Norse settlement in 1963.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures given to you. Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the numbers check out for you. (Numbers given you. Coaches' Talk May Baffle Husker-ISU Fans

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor
Ames, Iowa — If the 30,000 fans who are expected to jam Clyde Williams Field here this afternoon to see Nebraska and Iowa State meet have been reading statements from the rival camps, chances are, at best, that they won't have any idea of what to expect.

NU coach Bob Devaney has said his Cornhuskers must come up with a better pass rush than they've staged in the first two games if they are to stop Cyclone passer Tim Van Galder.

Cyclone coach Clay Staple-

ton says he expects Nebraska's hefty defensive front wall to put a lot of pressure on Van Galder.

"There's not much we can do unless we hit our receivers fast in this case," he explains.

Devaney has indicated he expects Iowa State to try to move a little more on the ground than they have in their two losses — to Wisconsin and Oklahoma.

Stapleton doesn't expect any team to move on the ground against the monstrous Huskers and indicates his Cyclones may not even try. "If they stop our passing game, it could be a long afternoon," he says.

And what does the Iowa State coach expect Nebraska to do offensively?

"I think Nebraska is strong enough to do what they want — either pass or run," he replies.

The Huskers' rushing offense, however, which was tops in the nation last year, has been a disappointment to its fans in the 14-10 decision over Texas Christian and 28-7 win over Utah State.

Nebraska ranks first in the Big Eight in passing offense, averaging 135 yards through the air, mostly on the arm of quarterback Bob Churchich. However, the Huskers have been able to add only another 137 yards per game on the ground to rank fifth in that department in the league.

Iowa State is last in rushing offense with 104 yards per game and third in passing at 126 yards per outing.

In an effort to bolster his rushing offense, Devaney abandoned his no-scrimmage philosophy this week to send his top units through a rugged mid-week scrimmage.

The major problem with the Husker running offense, according to NU coaches is the stunting being done by opposing defenses which the Huskers' young offensive linemen have been unable to solve.

But Nebraska fans are hopeful that the bevy of top running backs such as Harry Wilson, Ron Kirkland, Charlie Winters, Pete Tatman and Dick Davis will break loose soon and it could be here.

A year ago, the Huskers demolished the Cyclones in Lincoln by a 44-0 count.

Iowa State, whose players last winter agreed that they were going to a bowl game this year, relies mainly on a Van Galder to Eppie Barney passing threat, but the Huskers have no plans to double-cover the Big Eight's leading receiver.

NU defensive plans call for a zone defense against the Iowa State passing and whoever happens to be in the zone Barney wanders into will cover the top pass catcher.

The Cyclones have a top running threat in Les Webster of Omaha, but so far, they haven't been able to get him loose through the line.

Kickoff for today's game is 1:30 here, which will be 12:30 in Lincoln.

LOS ANGELES FAILS AGAIN

Fremont Outclasses SE, 27-19

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer
Fremont's Tigers emerged a 27-19 winner over Southeast in a rugged but ragged exhibition of high school football at Seacrest Field Friday night.

Both teams had an abundance of opportunities to score as fumbles, interceptions and blocked punts played an important part in the game.

Southeast was the first to score when the Knights Pat Mooberry recovered a muffed punt return in the Fremont end zone with three minutes left in the first quarter.

The Knights had punted from the Fremont 41 to the 10 where the ball was handled by the Tigers but bounced loose into the end zone. That made it 6-0, Southeast, after the PAT failed.

Fremont moved into the lead midway in the second quarter, however, when Gage Hazen, a swift senior halfback, burst through the center of the Southeast line, wriggled free, and scampered 37 yards to score on the second play from scrimmage after the Tigers had taken a Southeast punt.

Jeff Shada's conversion made it 7-6, Fremont. However, some heroics by the Knights Jon Roberts put the Lincolinites back on top before intermission.

Roberts, a senior fullback, intercepted a Steve Chandler pass at the Southeast 36 and returned up to the 42. Then on the first play from scrimmage, Roberts took a pass from Knight quarterback Craig Lutz at the Fremont 35. Wide open when he took the pass, Roberts rambled, untouched, into the end zone.

Randy Wagner blocked the extra point attempt but the Knights had a 12-7 lead.

Fremont struck first in the second half, using a blocked punt to set up the go-ahead touchdown.

Stymied at their own 47, the Knights sent Roberts back to punt. But an alert, aggressive Fremont defense blocked the kick and Dale Wilcoxson picked up the loose ball and ran to the Knights' three-yard line.

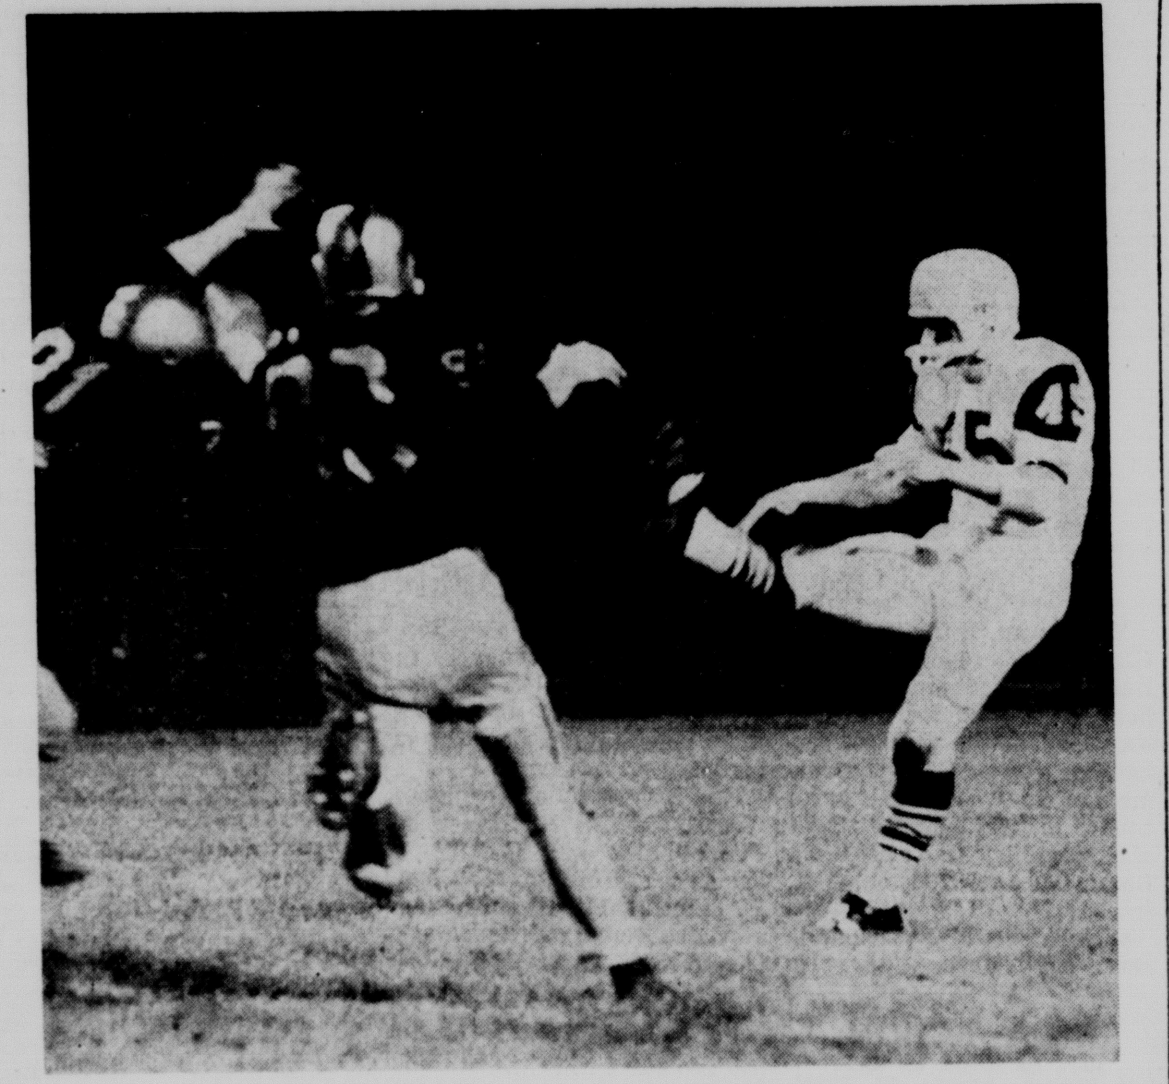

On the first play from scrimmage, the ball squirmed loose and junior tackle Dennis Hughes recovered in the end zone to give the Tigers a 13-12 edge with 4:21 left in the third quarter.

The Knights had the ball just two plays after the kickoff before relinquishing possession via a fumble, recovered by Fremont's Paul Gifford at the Southeast 16.

The Knights nearly held, but on fourth and one, sophomore fullback Jon Strong bled his way across to make it 20-12, Fremont, following another Shada conversion.

The Knights took the kickoff but again could not maintain possession. After just two plays from scrimmage, Fremont's Seth Paulson pirated a pass by halfback Bill Leinberger, and returned from the 40 to the three.

Gifford plunged in for the final Fremont TD, and Shada converted to make it 27-12 with 11:53 left in the game.

Chadwell Rallies, Wins State Senior Golf Meet

... EDGES PRINTZ BY STROKE

Star Sports Writer
Gene Chadwell of Lincoln came from five strokes back at the start of the day and edged previous leader Ed Printz of Omaha by a single stroke to win the Nebraska Men's Senior Golf Tournament at Hillcrest Country Club Friday afternoon.

Chadwell fired the best round of the raw, wind-swept day with a seven-over 79, catching Printz on the 10th hole and taking the lead for good on the 11th to finish with a 54-hole total of 234, or 18 strokes over par.

Chadwell drew even at the start of the back nine and went ahead by 1 on the 11th with a par. The lead was upped to two strokes on the 14th, down to one again on the 17th and then stayed that way as both contenders hit par at the end.

The 55-year-old Chadwell, who like Printz was eligible for the senior division for the first time this year, had to share day's honors with Jack McCuiston, a fellow Lincolnite, who missed the meet title only because it was for linksmen 55 and older.

McCuiston had the second best round of the day, an 80, including a two-over 38 going out, to win the Junior-Senior title for golfers 50-54 years of age. McCuiston concluded with a 232 total, lowest of any of the 78 golfers in the four divisions and won his bracket by four strokes. His 38 was the best nine-hole score of the day, also.

McCuiston survived a double bogey on No. 2 and a triple bogey the next hole but steadied to close with 12 pars and only three bogeys the remaining 15 holes. He parred each of the last seven holes.

Chadwell and Printz were in Class C (ages 55 to 59).

Other winners were Carl Poling of Beatrice in Class B

No. 2, which is par 4 and 443 yards.

"The key shot for me was that birdie putt on No. 5," Chadwell said just after the meet. "I had no double bogeys and that's what you want to keep away from. I didn't have anything outstanding, but here and there hit a good shot, like on No. 8 when I made the green and just missed a birdie putt."

"On No. 17 I hit over the green and into the trees but still had a little opening. I got on the green with a 6-iron and two-putted for a five (bogey). I had had a cold and so had Ed, but my pep was coming back and I really felt like playing today. Ed really plays much better than he did today."

Chadwell has been on the links 40 years now and has a string of statewide tourney championships to his credit. He is a native of Omaha and moved to Lincoln 20 years ago last month. For the past 29 years he has been a sales supervisor at a local business firm.

Printz suffered bursitis trouble during the day and was clutching at his right shoulder as he figured out his scorecard. "I blew it all day on every hole," he sighed. "I had one or two bad shots every hole and came closer to missing the ball completely than I have in 40 years, like on 2 and 16 and on a couple of fairways."

Hillcrest pro Bunny Richards said the 15 mile-an-hour wind "was a true norther and made the second, third and fourth holes extremely difficult because they are long and into the wind." The temperature was in the 50's.

Four golfers had nine-hole 39s, Walt Smola of Omaha on the back and Chadwell, Dean Christofferson of Norfolk and Bill Glenn of Falls City the front side. Par on each nine is 36.

Eagles were so scarce that one participant remarked, "I saw a buzzard out there to anything resembling an eagle."

Phils Thwart Dodgers' Bid

... TO CINCH TIE FOR FLAG

By Associated Press
The Philadelphia Phillies whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3 Friday night, thwarting the Dodgers' hopes of clinching at least a tie for the National League pennant.

The defeat cut the Dodgers' lead over second place Pittsburgh to 1½ games and to only one game in the important loss column with the end of the regular season Sunday.

Rain forced postponement of the San Francisco-Pittsburgh game, setting up a Saturday afternoon game double-header.

The Dodgers, with two games left, have won 94 games and lost 66. Pittsburgh, with three left, is 92-67. Third place San Francisco, which at best can only gain a tie, is 90-68 with four left, including a Monday game at Cincinnati, if necessary.

Bill White's three-run home in the seventh won the game for the Phillies. That gave the Phils a 5-1 lead and they weathered a two-run rally by the Dodgers in the ninth. The Dodgers had the tying runs on second and third when Lou Johnson popped to Tony Taylor to end the game.

Larry Dierker pitched a perfect game for Houston against the New York Mets for eight innings, but lost in the ninth 1-0 when Ed Bressoud doubled and scored on

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Freddie Haas is making a good run at winning two titles in his first season as a senior golfer.

Haas, 50-year-old pro from Metairie, La., burned up the 7,069-yard Paradise Valley course with a 67 Thursday to take a first-round lead in the $70,000 U.S. Seniors National Open.

Already Haas has won the World Seniors title this year in Scotland. A past winner of the Portland, Miami and Long Beach opens, Haas is the only man ever to represent the U.S. on both Walker and Ryder Cup golf teams.

Chandler Harper, defending champion, posted a double bogey six on the first hole when he hit into the rough and was unable to reach the green with his second shot. He finished with a 75.

Ashland 12, Wahoo Neumann 0

Ashland scored in the first and third quarters, but failed to make conversions as it topped Wahoo Neumann, 12-0.

The Ashland scores were made by Jerry Fudge and Bill Kucera.

Ashland—Fudge, 6 pass from Sherman; Kucera, 3 run.

Drivers Warm Up For U.S. Grand Prix On Sunday

Watkins Glen, N.Y. (AP) With their sights set on a $20,000 first prize, 20 of the world's best auto-drivers begin their practice runs today for Sunday's U.S. Grand Prix.

The field is paced by Jack Brabham of Australia, who has sewed up the 1966 world championship with four victories and a fourth-place finish in the European Grand Prix races.

Brabham, who pilots a Repco-powered Brabham was expected to find his stiffest competitor in England's Graham Hill, who will drive a BRM in his quest for his fourth straight victory at the Glen.

A purse of $102,400 will be divided among the entrants for the race of the 200-mile-an-hour Formula I machines over the hilly, tear-shaped Watkins Glen track.

Cheaters Arrested

Tokyo (AP)—Police arrested four men Friday on charges of damaging eight of 10 motorboats entered in a race and then winning $1,985 in bets placed on the remaining two boats. Police said the men bent the propellers with pliers to cut down their speed.

Scotland Yard To Investigate Alleged Bribe

London (AP)—Scotland Yard detectives took over investigations Friday into a claim by Billy Daniels, New York heavyweight boxer, that he was offered an $840 bribe to lose a fight with Britain's Billy Walker.

Attorneys acting for the British Boxing Board of Control said in a statement: "Documents have been handed to Scotland Yard, and an inquiry by the board will not be held until the police have completed their investigations."

Williamson Fires 77 In Seniors Tourney

Las Vegas, Nev. — Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson was 10 strokes off the pace after the first round of the U.S. Seniors National Golf Open here Thursday.

Williamson had a 77 on the first 18 holes. Freddie Haas of Metairie, La., shot a five-under-par 67 to take the opening round lead.

Packers, Cards Eye 4-0 Mark

... BUT FOES ARE TOUGH

By Associated Press

The Green Bay Packers and St. Louis Cardinals will seek their fourth straight victories in the feature attractions Sunday after the National Football League opened its weekend activities with San Francisco playing at Los Angeles Friday night.

Detroit, 2-1, visits Green Bay Sunday, bringing with it the awesome defense that usually reaches its peak against the Packers. The teams split their two games last year and the Packers 3-0 need this one to stay on top in the Western Division.

St. Louis, unbeaten in the East, will be playing a rematch against Philadelphia, 2-1. The Cards, 3-0, had to work hard for a 16-13 victory over the Eagles on opening day, winning on a field goal in the last five seconds. It was the Eagles' only loss so far, and they hope to average it on their home field.

Dallas is at Atlanta, Cleveland at New York, Chicago at Washington in the other NFL games Sunday.

The Cowboys, 0-2, are unbeaten in the East, but trail St. Louis because they have played one less game. This is their first road game, but the strong passing attack centered around quarterback

Don Meredith, makes them a top-sided favorite against the first-year Falcons, 0-3.

The Browns have won four straight against New York, and are expected to make it five in a row in the Giant's home opener. The Browns have lost two straight after an opening victory, but the Giants, 0-2-1, have had even more trouble with a porous defense and inconsistent attack.

The Bears, 0-2, and Vikings, 0-2-1, split in 1965 and have been inconsistent this year. The Vikings blew leads against Baltimore and Dallas while the Bears have faltered at key junctures in their two games.

The Steelers-Redskins affair is a rematch of last week's game, won by Washington 33-27 on four field goals by Charlie Gogolak. The Steelers, 1-1-1, must bottle up Sonny Jurgensen's passes to split the series. Washington is 1-2 for the year.

UCLA-Tiger Clash On TV

... MIZZOU HUNGRY FOR RATINGS

By Associated Press
The collegians have come up with another natural for national television this Saturday in a match-up of the Rose Bowl and Sugar Bowl champions—UCLA and Missouri—at Los Angeles.

UCLA's Rose Bowl kings are ranked second nationally and favored by two touchdowns over the unranked but unbeaten Tigers.

Despite the odds, this could turn out to be an offensive spectacular with Missouri pitting quarterback Gary Kornbrink and receiver Early Denny against UCLA's combination of passer Gary Beban and runner Mel Farr.

UCLA smashed Pittsburgh and Syracuse in its openers. Missouri whipped Minnesota 24-0 but had to scramble from behind to overcome Illinois 21-14.

The intersectional contest will be telecast by ABC-TV. Starting time is 4 p.m., EDT. According to the dope sheet only two of the top ten teams—Alabama and Arkansas—appear to be in trouble this Saturday.

All of the others are favored by two touchdowns or more. Both Alabama and Arkansas are rated just a few points over their opponents.

Third-ranked Alabama, 1-0, gunning for its third straight national championship, gets down to serious business for the first time this season against Mississippi, 2-0, at Jackson, Miss., in a night game.

Patriots Last Threat To Jets?

By Associated Press
Unless Boston can stop New York Sunday, the undefeated Jets may make a run-away of the Eastern Division race in the American Football League.

The Jets go into their fourth game against the Patriots at Boston leading with a 3-0 record followed by Buffalo and Houston at 2-2 each, Boston 1-2, and Miami 0-3.

Joe Namath and Co. are 7½ point choices over Boston. Kansas City 3-0, co-leaders in the West with San Diego 3-0, is an 11½ point choice at home over Buffalo while Houston is a 10-point favorite over the winless Broncos 0-3 at Denver. San Diego is favored by 27 over Miami on the Chargers' home grounds. Oakland, 1-3, is idle.

The Jets, playing in mile-high Denver, were held to 16-7 by the scrappy Broncos playing their first game for a new coach Ray Malavasi. Boston, meanwhile, was belted at home over Buffalo while Houston is a 10-point favorite over the winless Broncos 0-3 at Denver. San Diego is favored by 27 over Miami on the Chargers' home grounds. Oakland, 1-3, is idle.

At sea level again, the Jets, leading in every offensive and defensive department except rushing offense, appear too strong and deep for the Patriots. Boston tops the rushing department, mainly on the running of Jim Nance. The slimmed down Boston soph clicked for 290 yards and a 5.0 average.

Buffalo also has rushing power in rookie Bob Burnett, No. 2 with 196 yards, and veteran Wray Carlton, No. 3 with 192, but Kansas City has explosive power in passing leader Len Dawson and the running of Bert Coan. Curt McClintock and rookie Mike Garrett.

The Chiefs have averaged nearly 40 points for three games. Buffalo topped Houston 27-20 last Sunday, and has averaged 28 points for four games.

Houston, banged up in its last two losing tilts at New York and Buffalo, has to combat both the thin air at Denver and the determination of the revamped Broncos.

Beatrice 20, Fairbury 19

Despite an acute case of the fumbles, Beatrice held on for a narrow 20-19 win at Fairbury Friday night. The Orangemen fumbled five times, two of which set up Fairbury touchdowns.

Beatrice quarterback Allan Klaus fired two touchdowns passes and Lanny Graves scored two TD's to lead the Orangemen attack. Randy Barkling's passing and Bob Meredith's kickoff returns caused the Fairbury cause.

Beatrice — Graves 1 run, 7 pass from Klaus; Soderberg 32 pass from Klaus; PAT—Soderberg (2). Fairbury—Becker 20 pass from Barkling; Meredith 30 pass from Barkling; Dixon 8 run; PAT—Blackwell (2).

Grid Merger Hearings May Be Moved Up

Washington (P)—The House Antitrust Subcommittee may hold hearings next week on legislation that would sanction the projected merger of the National and American Football Leagues.

Officially, the hearings still are scheduled to start Oct. 11. The subcommittee is holding hearings Oct. 5 and 6 on other legislation, however, and sources said the sports bill may be taken up Oct. 6 if other hearings are completed in time.

Some members fear that if hearings are delayed until the following week, there will not be enough time left to act before Congress adjourns.

Subcommittee Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., said the bill has an excellent chance for House passage.

On Wednesday, a bill similar to the one already passed by the Senate was introduced by Reps. Rodino, Byron G. Rogers, D-Colo., and James C. Corman, D-Calif.

Four Jockeys Hurt In-Pile-Up

South Sioux City — A five-horse spill in the third race at Atokad track here Friday sent four jockeys to St. Vincent's Hospital in Sioux City, Iowa.

All four jockeys were listed in "fairly good" condition. The injured were Kenneth Hare, 27, Phoenix, Ariz., neck and upper back injuries; Mervin Kruger, 27, Winnipeg, Canada, left shoulder, right hip and pelvis injuries; Ralph Calderon, 25, Portland, Ore., cerebral concussion; and Larry Rettele, 24, Baillyville, Kan., dislocated elbow and foot mishap.

The mishap occurred at the quarter pole of the far turn when Pram, ridden by Hare, moved up on the inside, then, finding no running room, moved to the outside but caught the heel of Jovel and fell to the turf.

Links Face KC Squad At Seacrest

A pair of rebuilding teams hoping to get untracked, Lincoln High and Kansas City De la Salle, tangle in an interstate football feature at Seacrest Field Saturday night.

Visiting De la Salle was 9-0 a year ago and won its opener this season before dropping its next two games. Last week's defeat came in the closing seconds by a narrow 16-14 margin.

The Links, 6-1-1 last year and 1-1-1 currently, may have a different look when they take the field this week.

"We're still trying to iron out our mistakes and do something to bolster our attack," says coach Andy Loehr.

After showing a promising ground attack at Columbus in a 20-12 win the Links were blanked by Hastings and allowed just one touchdown by Pius X.

One area the Links have been concentrating on is somewhat lethargic line play.

Milford 33, Norris 7

Norris—An Eicker Brothers act dominated the spotlight here Friday night, as Milford swept past Norris with little difficulty, 33-7.

Steve Eicker, a quarterback who shifts around in the Milford backfield as a multi-threat, tallied four touchdowns, all on the ground, while brother Warren Eicker racked up three extra points.

The visitors held only a 13-7 bulge at intermission, but added seven more in the third quarter and finished with 13 in the final stanza.

Norris — 0 7 0 0—7
Milford—Steve Eicker (4), 11 run, 5 run, 20 run, 1 run. PAT—Warren Eicker (3).
Norris—Franken, 45 pass interception. PAT—Kramer.

Sprague-Martell Snaps Western Victory String

... INDIANS FALL, 47-33

By JOHN LEE

Outstate Nebraska Bureau Sprague—a short string stretched, and a long one broke when Sprague-Martell entertained Western here Friday night.

The rampaging Indians, ranked third in the state and boasting a win streak running back two seasons and 14 games, fell to a keyed up Sprague-Martell outfit, 47-33.

The Panthers clicked up to 4-0 on the season and bucked for more than their second ranking.

The eight-man squads were pretty evenly matched—except for one factor named Terry Egger. And he happened to be on the host's side of the scrimmage line.

"Terry was the difference," beamed Coach Larry Horstman, dripping from the shower his boys treated him to following the "big game" of their season. "He's an outstanding, all-around athlete."

The crafty quarterback produced three touchdowns on a 14-yard run, 78-yard kickoff return and the snagging of an errant Western pass and runback of 39 yards.

He passed to Rick Mertens for another and laid the groundwork for a fifth with a 55-yard run that ended out of bounds on the one yard line.

Egger's nifty right hand man Earl Nannen carried that one in, backed it up later with a five-yard tally and finished the host's scoring by taking a kickoff hand-off from Terry and running it 70 yards down the sideline.

State Data Processing Manager Waal Resigns

By Associated Press
Peter C. Waal submitted his resignation Friday as data processing manager of the Department of Administrative Services.

The surprise resignation will be effective no later than Oct. 31.

Waal said his resignation was prompted by "serious differences" between the department's consulting firm and himself over the role of the data processing unit.

He said the accounting and budgetary control responsibilities of the department "tended to dominate or seize control of the whole operation" to the serious detriment of the department's other statutory functions.

Accepted Aug. 1, Waal, 34, former data processing manager for the city of Milwaukee, Wis., accepted the Nebraska state post Aug. 1, 1965, at an annual salary of $12,000. Waal said he has turned down an offer to return to Milwaukee and is considering other job proposals.

The Harried Administrative Services Department has been troubled by computer headaches and staff resignations in recent months.

Department Director Willard Townsend said Waal's resignation was a surprise and he regrets the decision very much.

In a letter of resignation to Townsend, Waal said: "I have been encouraged by the interest (in the department) shown recently by several key state senators. Their concern in our area has been both stimulating and constructive."

26 Changes
"As a direct result, I have prepared and furnished the consulting firm with a written outline of 26 specific recommendations for systems improvements. I have confidence in the dedication and ability of our data processing people to implement these recommendations, given the opportunity to do so."

Waal told newsmen the department has allowed its service obligations to other state agencies to "go to pot" because of the emphasis placed on ironing out accounting and budget control problems, primarily dealing with payroll.

"Accounting and budget control deserve the greatest attention," said Waal, "but we should have been able to maintain the manpower and service levels existing before the department assumed its present identity."

He said there now is a "demoralization of staff" in the Data Processing Bureau.

JET SERVICE BEGINS . . . Frontier Airlines' Boeing 727 Arrow-Jet arrives from Denver on maiden flight.

Frontier Inaugurates Jet Service For Lincoln

By BOB SCHREFF
Star Staff Writer

A large group of city and state officials were on hand Friday to meet Frontier Airlines' first pure jet commercial flight to Lincoln.

The new Boeing 727, a 600-mile-per-hour, 96-seat Arrow-Jet, touched down from uncertain skies early in the afternoon, inaugurating the city's first jet air service.

Lincoln air travelers will save 26 minutes flying time to Denver, Colo., and 11 minutes to Kansas City, Mo.

Aboard the 727, both first class and coach services are provided, with 24 seats making up the first class section and 72 coach seats.

Circle K Names National Leader

James A. Smith, 22, a Louisiana State University senior, was elected president of Circle K International, said Kenneth D. King, president of the Downtown Kiwanis Club of Lincoln, which sponsors the Circle K Club at the University of Nebraska.

As president of Circle K, Smith will head nearly 14,000 college men from all over the United States and Canada who perform daily acts of service on 650 college campuses.

Named as one of 12 trustees was Joseph David Eads of Chadron State College.

Motorcyclist Has Kneecap Broken

A Lincoln teenager suffered a broken kneecap in a car-motorcycle accident Friday noon at 23rd and R, police said.

Tim A. Bateman of 2500 So. 70th was thrown from his cycle after he was struck by the northbound car of Donna K. Reiss, 21, of 2131 S.

He was admitted to Bryan Memorial Hospital after the accident, hospital authorities said.

All Ministers of Lincoln
 Invite You To Church

THE SHEPHERD'S STAFF

...and you, too, will need it when you pass through the valley of the shadow. We grope blindly through this world as we trample law and order, and the blessings of an Almighty God. We black-out God and every opportunity to do good. The family, the church, the state will suffer for our sins of omission...our failure to possess the earth. Our goal is not the mark of the high calling which is in Christ Jesus. We know He is the light of the world but we don't care to possess it. It is dark about us and apparently we are glad of it. It is dark about us because we choose darkness rather than light.
 Regular attendance at church could make the dark situation light again.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN YOU
 Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions stronger democracy in the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER."
